THE Peach WALL STREET CLOSE

ADMITS "TORCH MURDER" IN NOTE

LETTER BARES CRIME

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The first definite clue to the whereabouts of the "torch murderer" who drugged, robbed and burned to death Miss Margaret Brown, a cultured governess, in the woods near Morristown, N. J., came today in the form of an anonymous letter. The writer of the communication admitted the murder and declared that if he is caught he will commit suicide.

"Au revoir" was the signature on the letter which was postmarked Newark, N. J., and addressed to the police.

RETURNS LOOT

With the letter were enclosed two $1,000 bonds and one $500 gold certificate, said to have been Miss Brown's property. She was reported to have saved $9,000 in bonds and cash.

The anonymous letter came while New York and New Jersey authorities were running down numerous clues, chief of which was that Miss Brown was the victim of a glib-tongued schemer who posed as a "doctor," courted her for two months, induced her to withdraw her savings from the bank and then killed her for her money.

The letter said that the murderer had met Miss Brown in New York City and had driven her into New Jersey to a lonely spot on the Morristown-Bernardsville road, where she was found aflame last Monday night.

He made advances to her. When she repulsed him he struck her on the head. The blow made her unconscious. Fearing that she was dead the writer of the communication said he dragged the body behind an abandoned refreshment stand, sprinkled gasoline over the clothing, ignited the gasoline and drove back to Newark.

The letter confessing the crime said in part:

"I am writing you this letter and sending you the bonds of Miss Brown, knowing you will take care of them before anyone else gets

TALK WITH STRIKERS

"How do they keep warm?" members of the committee wanted to know after visiting several union families living in barracks at Castle Shannon. The Senators spent hours talking to union and nonunion miners in the Castle Shannon-Curry district.

Mauler

PRINCESS' HUSBAND

Alexander Subkoff, husband of Princess Victoria Schaumberg-Lippe, sister of the former kaiser, was arrested today for knocking a page boy senseless in a Berlin hotel. The boy had refused to leave his post at Subkoff's command. Subkoff was taken to a police station.

UNION WINS FIRST RULING

After winning the first skirmish before the senatorial mine investigation committee, which arrived in Pittsburgh this morning, leaders of the United Mine Workers of America were given an opportunity to present their side of the strike controversy to the Senate interstate commerce sub-committee today.

Accompanied by Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers, and Patrick J. Fagan, president of District No. 5, the four Senators on the committee visited union families living in flimsy wooden barracks along the hills at Castle Shannon, Mollenauer, Coverdale, Curry and Bruceton, and at the same time saw mines of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation and the Pittsburgh Coal Company in operation with nonunion labor.

VISIT MINE CAMPS

The Senators did not visit the mines, nor did they spend a great deal of time investigating company matters, leaving this phase of the government probe until a later time. They were taken into the union barracks at Castle Shannon and Mollenauer and they saw how the union families have been living since their eviction from coal company houses. They talked with men, women and children in the barracks and asked many questions about living conditions, making particular note of sanitation and food.

At several places the senators came in contact with non-union people and they also were questioned about their life in the coal company camps.

METCALFE ILL

Only four members of the committee arrived here today: Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, chairman; Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana; Robert F. Wagner, of New York, and W. P. Pine, of Oklahoma. They were accompanied by Senate deputy sergeant-at-arms and a corps of Washington newspaper correspondents. Senator James eMtcalfe, of Rhode Island, was unable to come because of illness.

Immediately upon their arrival here, the Senators sent invitations to J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and Horace F. Baker, of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation. These officials told the Senators that no union men would be admitted to their properties during the investigation, but the committee refused to accept this condition and an

Tumbles 15 Ft., Hits Woman

Louis Bundy, 48, a window cleaner, of St. Clair street, McKeesport, fell from a second-story window at Rhea's bakery, 441 Market street, this afternoon, striking Mrs. Anna Gordon, 4 First avenue, walking on the sidewalk below. Both were taken to the Allegheny General Hospital.

Bundy, an employe of the Penn Window Cleaning Company, is believed to have been adusting his safety strap to rings on the window frame when he slipped. He dropped 15 feet, his body hitting Mrs. Gordon, who was passing in front of the store.

The two were placed in a taxicab and rushed to the hospital.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.

OFTEN the East asks: "Doesn't a warm climate weaken the energies of California men and women? Are not the white people there enervated, as California Indians used to be?"

MR OCHS, who owns the New York Times, can answer that, having attended a session of the Los Angeles Riding and Breakfast Club.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning he was singing songs, hundreds of men putting their arms on each other's shoulders, swinging back and forth sidewise as they sang.

Before nine he had eaten buckwheat cakes, ham and eggs, boiled pears, hot rolls, heard Russian vaudeville performers sing, and had seen them dance, made a speech of his own and listened to six other five-minute speeches; had been photographed with five charming young ladies known as the "Wampas Babies," met and was photographed with a young lady who had just ridden one horse 4,000 miles across the continent; had been photographed with Doughlas Fairbanks' bounding young Mexican star, Lupe Valez, and learned the chorus of a song beginning:

"O! You ham,
"O! You eggs."

BY ten he had posed for William Fox's "Movietone" and was inspecting real estate, 1,700

COCAINE IS 'DOPE' KING IN UNDERWORLD

This is the fourth of a series of articles by Winifred Black, exposing conditions resulting from wholesale, uncurbed sale of "dope" in the United States.

These articles are being printed in connection with Narcotic Education Week.

By WINIFRED BLACK.

"Snow"—"Joy Powder"—"Happy Dust."

These are some of the names the underworld calls cocaine, one of the most deadly drugs in existence.

The "dope" ring, the big distributors and the "dope" peddlers sometimes call it "the kid catcher."

They call it that because cocaine is the one drug that boys and girls pick up first and it is astonishing and horrifying to discover how many boys and girls there are in this country today who are "snow birds," as the police call them.

Do the police know cocaine? Do the police know murder and robbery and kidnaping and all the kindred crimes? They have a name

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Herbert Hoover proclaimed himself today to be a friend of the eighteenth amendment and a believer in the enforcement of laws enacted under that far-reaching instrument—but further than that he would not go in answering the demands of prohibitionists that he declare himself in detail with relation to the wet-and-dry question.

Mellon at War With Vare

By International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—Congressman John M. Morin, of Pittsburgh, with the support of U. S. Senator-elect William S. Vare, will opose U. S. Senator David A. Reed at the coming primaries.

This was strongly indicated today when it became known that the Mellon-Reed forces have rejected the ultimatum of Vare that Morin be supported for re-election in the Pittsburgh district. Alderman P. J.

2 Dance Here 61 Hours; Win Title

Pittsburgh, ninth largest city on this side of the ocean, home of vast steel mills and notable citizens, can well extend its chest this spring-like day—

It is the home of the world's champion dance marathon team!

At 12:42 o'clock the "Perpetual Shuffle"—the "All-Day Drag—the "Slow-Motion Marathon" ended in Danceland, a hall of syncopation here.

The winners, lad-ees and gentlemen—Albert Bonach, 22, and Marianne Jacque, 19.

OLD RECORD "NOTHING"

Sixty hours and 55 minutes they were in action. The old record was a mere 52 hours—less time than it takes to tell.

The shuffle ended when Teeny Neiman and Tony Phillips, well-known barber of the Hill district, gave up the dance. Tony collapsed. Teeny was still strong—strongest of all—but Tony took a 12-minute rest to which he was entitled—and couldn't come back. Teeny cried.

They were playing "Is She My Girl Friend?" when the jig was up. A dozen friends of Albert and Marianne, who had wagered a pretty penny, closed in on them with genuine thanks.

POOR TEENY!

It was just too bad for Teeny. She could have danced on and on. In fact, she was moving her soft-slippered feet and shaking a shoulder when Tony, his neck sore and his back ailing, called it a dance.

The winning team had shuffled slowly an monotonously for the last five hours, the iminutive Marianne's head buried against the tired but willing bosom of Albert.

Outside, in Fifth Avenue, thousands crowded away their lunch hour awaiting the news. It looked like an Armistice Day spectacle. Spectators had been banned and the boys and girls were hungry for the news.

AL'S MA ON JOB

Albert had the edge in moral support. His mother sat in a ring-

KINLOCH MINE GIVES UP LAST OF 12 BLAST VICTIMS

TO PROBE DISASTER CAUSE

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Feb. 23—The last of the bodies of 12 victims killed by the Kinloch and Valley Brick Company mine explosion last Monday night were recovered today. Seven bodies were removed from the Kinloch mine and a little later rescue parties entered the brick company mine and took out its two victims. Three had previously been taken from Kinloch mine.

Early today rescuers began leaving and the mine will be repaired immediately. During the repair work inspectors who have been assigned will investigate to determine the cause of the explosion.

The last bodies to be recovered were those of Knute Beck and Louis Yeagul, killed by afterdamp in the brick company mine.

From the Kinloch mine early today the rescuers brought out the bodies of Parley Bell, John Clark, William Ivory and West Blackman, all Negroes, and John Pool, pumper. A short time later the bodies of Charles Wise and Andrew Stroter were recovered. The bodies were taken to New Kensington.

MELLON AT WAR

Sullivan, who has the backing of the Mellon-Reed forces for the congressional district now represented by Morin, has announced that he is in the fight to a finish.

DECLARE OPEN WAR

Open warfare was declared when a spokesman for Gov. Fisher and W. L. Mellon, chairman of the Republican State Committee, declared that any effort by Vare to influence candidacies in Pittsburgh would be vigorously opposed.

Political developments have followed each other with machine-gun rapidity within the last 24 hours, and the situation today is tense.

Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot has declared he will not be a Senatorial candidate, and if he remains out the prospective battle between Reed and Morin will be along clear-cut lines. Reed withdrew as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention to permit the selection of James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh, secretary of labor.

Prior to the position taken by the Mellon-Reed forces on Vare's request for Morin, Vare had suggested either W. W. Atterbury, Pennsylvania Railroad head, or Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Norristown publisher, as candidate for delegate. Whether one of these two will now be slated is problematical.

"The crisis in the political situation is declared to have been inaugurated by the refusal of Gov. Fisher to "go along" on a program which has been discussed by Mellon and Vare. The Governor, in this city last night, declined to comment.

John E. Barr, of Harrisburg, Republican party worker, has started the circulation of nominating petitions for Senator-elect Vare as delegate-at-large. First petitions are being circulated in Dauphin, Lebanon and Cumberland counties.

side seat, an orange in one hand and a newspaper in another. She passed the paper to her son, and while he and Marianne shuffled along they saw their printed pictures and read how they were establishing history. Dance champions!

"Albert almost ran to Cleveland once," Mrs. Bonach, rightfully proud of her son, boasted. "He's a great athlete. . . Oh, no, Marianne's not his best girl. . . . Albert works here in Danceland at the soda counter. Marianne is a nurse-maid."

SURVIVORS REWARDED

Albert and Marianne are $160 richer by their feat. For their approximate 61 hours they received about $1.60 per hour.

There wasn't supposed to be a second prize, but Milton Crandall, owner of Danceland, was moved to the depths by the efforts of Teeny and Tony, and awarded them $50.

The world's record was shattered with a crash of cymbals and bells at 4:42 a. m. There were four couples on the floor at the time. A few minutes later Jacqueline Lottie and Thomas Gabrielli dropped out, and, after adding an hour to the record, Peggy Cassinelli and Joseph Sayles quit.

them. I am very remorse. I have been drinking.

"I met Miss Brown in Buffalo, and then again Newark, two years ago. I left Newark at 4:15 on Monday and reached New York at 7:15 and Miss Brown.

"I had two bottles of wine and we both drank some. I drove out to Lovers' Lane, where there was a large car parked. I drove around until the car had gone and then I pulled up there.

"She refused my advances, and I hit her on the head, and she fell. Thinking I had killed her, I took gasoline from my car and foured it over her, lighting it, and then drove away.

"I drove through Bernardsville, where I threw the rest of the stuff in the river. T[illegible] was all the money she had. I drove around and slept in the car for the rest of the night.

"I drove to Newark the next morning, where I am hiding. I have a good car and new tires and I am starting out, God knows where—to Hell I suppose.

"By the time you get this letter I will have a good start on you. I am going to go until my money gives out and when I am caught I have something with me to end it all before they can do anything.

"Au revoir."

The authorities will visit the banks in New York City where Miss Brown kept her accounts to determine whether the bonds returned to the Bernardsville police belonged to her.

The postmark on the letter indicated it had been mailed Tuesday. It was addressed simply to the Bernardsville p[illegible]ice.

THREE KILLED IN $1,000,000 HOTEL FIRE

PITTSBURGHERS WIN MARATHON DANCE TITLE

WHEN THEY STARTED—

Here are Marianne Jacque and Albert Bonach, winners of the marathon dance contest at Danceland. For 60 hours and 55 minutes they tottered about the floor to break the previous world's record of 52 hours and 46 minutes. Bonach is a cross-country runner; Miss Jacque the winner of several Charleston contests. They will go into vaudeville, having signed a 10-week contract with the Harris theaters.

—AND WHEN THEY FINISHED

Believe it or not this is the same couple, as they dragged through the long hours this morning, tired but determined. Their nearest rivals, Anthony Phillips and Teeny Neiman also topped the previous record, but dropped out when "Tony" threw in the sponge after a rest period at 12:30 p. m. today, having completed more than 60 hours dancing himself.

ACTRESS' "ANGEL" GETS WAD BACK

Charles Cameron, a tall citizen of Carnegie, described as "an angel for a couple o' chorus girls" by Magistrate John W. Orie, is through with the show business.

In Morals Court today Mr. Cameron, who plasters for a living, got his $300 back, and Jack Hartley and his wife, Belle Davis Hartley, of Stockton avenue, who took the money in the first place, were discharged. The heroine of the transaction was Hartley's "ma," who supplied the currency.

Cameron saw an ad in a paper asking for funds to finance a musical troupe—girls, music, songs and dances and that sort of thing. It was the Hartley ad.

They got together. The "angel for chorus girls" turned over $313. That was the last he saw of troupe or money until today.

The Hartleys inserted another ad. A city detective answered it. The Hartleys were moved to Morals Court.

Enter the heroine. Mrs. Hartley, the elder, was willing to return $313, but Magistrate Orie ruled $300 was enough and told Cameron to charge the unpaid 13-spot to experience.

"It looks," Magistrate Orie pronounced, as the Carnegie plasterer pocketed the long-lost roll, "as if you just wanted to be angel for a couple of chorus girls."

DONORA WORKER CAUGHT IN MACHINERY, KILLED

Truck Hits School Boys

A truck of the Anchor Ice Company plowed into a crowd of school boys playing marbles in Lockhart street in front of the Lockhard school shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Joseph Cowojski, 11, of 1124 Province street, and Paul De Angelo, 8, of 707 Emlin street, were taken to Allegheny General Hospital, the former with bruises about the head and face and the latter with a cut on the head. Angelo was sent home after his injuries were dressed, but Cowojski was held for observation.

William Neurohr, 20, 917 Constance street, driver of the truck, was held for reckless driving.

MAN BURNS RESCUING GUESTS

By International News Service.

SHELBY, N. C., Feb. 23.—Three persons were killed, one was seriously injured, a dozen others suffered minor injuries, and property damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000 was caused here early today when fire destroyed the Central Hotel.

The dead: J. B. Henderson and H. H. Carmichael, of Charlotte, and Henry Kerr, hotel clerk.

Kerr, the hotel clerk, gave his life in rescuing some 40 odd guests from the burning structure, making his way up and down the smoke-filled halls, warning the guests by knocking on their doors and sounding the alarm.

Seriously burned, the clerk was removed from the hotel and taken to a nearby hospital, where he died an hour later.

A. B. Stagg, of Charlotte, was seriously injured when he leaped from a third-floor window to escape the flames. He was not expected to recover.

About a dozen other guests were burned or injured, but none seriously.

Witnesses In Murder Gone

Mrs. Ruth Kelly, 25, of 756 Reedsdale street, principal witness for the commonwealth in the Mumford rolling-pin murder case, disappeared last Saturday night and has not been seen since, the Missing Persons Bureau was notified today.

According to E. O. Rodgers, a roomer at the same address, Mrs. Kelly started for a store in the vicinity and failed to return.

Mrs. Kelly "disappeared" while the murder case was on trial, according to the District Attorney's office, but was found and took the stand. Mrs. Roxie Mumford, convicted of voluntary manslaughter for slaying her husband, Joseph B. Mumford, was paroled last December.

Gang Robs Two Men

Set upon by five men who stopped them in Bluff street, near Hooper street, early today, Eugene McMillen, 25, and Arthur Schenck, 24, both of 1005 Seitz street, were robbed. The highwaymen took $20 from McMillen and a small amount of change from his companion. The victims told the police that only one of the robbers had a revolver.

PROBERS MEET MINE OWNERS AND UNION CHIEFS

WITH FAGAN AND MURRAY, UNION LEADERS

The Senate committee, here to investigate Western Pennsylvania coal strike conditions, met with mine operators and labor leaders in the William Penn Hotel early today before going to the coal fields to study at first hand conditions among union and non-union miners. This photograph shows the committee in session with Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Patrick J. Fagan, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers.

SHOW NO DISCRIMINATION

Particular stress was made by Senator Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, chairman of the Senate probers, that no discrimination or favoritism will be shown. Mine company officials and union leaders are being given equal consideration. For that reason he insisted the Senate committee be photographed with both union and operators' leaders. Here are J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company; Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana; Senator Gooding; Senator W. P. Pine, of Oklahoma; Senator Robert P. Wagner, of New York, and Horace F. Baker, president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company.

LOCKHART CRASHES DOING 225 MILES

CHANCE TO SET MARK VANISHES

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Because he let his standards of sportsmanship outweight his better judgment, Frank Lockhart, youthful racing driver, must temporarily dismiss his dream of driving a powerful automobile at a greater speed than ever has been attained.

His tiny Stutz Blackhawk Special was smashed beyond hope of immediate repair when it catapulted from the beach into the ocean here yesterday afternoon at the rate of 225 miles an hour, and Lockhart is recovering from severe shock and minor injuries at a hospital.

It was the roar of the crowd for action that gave fortune a chance to frown and smile in turn on the young Indianapolis pilot. Despite a wet beach and poor visibility brought on by low hanging clouds, he responded to the loud urging of the throng and went out to threaten the record of 206.9 miles an hour which Capt. Malcolm Campbell, of London, had established Sunday.

Lockhart's chances for a new mark went glimmering when his car swerved beyond control and turned a complete somersault, to right itself in the sea. Thousands who lined the beach, galvanized by fear at the machine's wild careening, today described the pilot's escape from death as remarkable.

Chisels and blow torches were necessary to extricate Lockhart from the pilot's seat, where he had been pinned in the crumpled machine. Breakers swept high over his head while he was in this defenseless position, semi-conscious, adding drowning to his other dangers until the $70,000 speed creation could be towed from the water onto the dry sands above.

With today the last day of an official attempt to beat the record against time, it seemed that Capt. Campbell's record would stand unless he himself should raise it with his napier blue bird special. The huge 36-cylindered machine, owned by J. M. White, of Philadelphia, was definitely barred from official competition yesterday because it did not meet mechanical requirements of the American Automobile Association.

2 ROB WEST END GAS STATION

Forcing Charles Boehme, an attendant at the Gulf Refining Company filling station, 640 Mansfield road, into a cupboard at the station late last night two armed holdup men escaped after taking $43 from the cash register. Boehme escaped after dislodging the lock on the cupboard door. Descriptions of the holdup men were given police of the West End station.

TAKE CAB, CASH, FROM DRIVER

Three Negroes, who hailed him as he was driving his cab in Kirkpatrick street near Arcena street early today, robbed Harold Polliard, a Red Cab driver, of his machine and $16. The men drew guns when he pulled up to the curb, and after taking his money ordered him to "get out and walk."

Fight to Abolish Klan Is Centered Here

RESCUE WORKERS -:- RECOVER -:- KINLOCH MINE DEAD

BETWEEN TRIPS

The Kinloch mine, wrecked by explosion, yielded to the effort of 100 rescue workers to reach the bodies of the nine miners trapped in the pit. When the workers got within a quarter of a mile of the victims the placement of one more brattice allowed them to reach the dead.

NO MATCHES

The workers were searched for matches each time they entered the pit. A flame of any kind would ignite gas and cause another explosion. The picture shows Arthur Johnson, head of one of the rescue teams searching J. F. Riley, one of the workers, as the latter is entering the pit.

HINDERED BY WATER

The workers were hindered by water in which they waded waist deep. The explosion wrecked the pumping system, and although it had been temporarily repaired the pumps did work properly. The picture shows Frank Palmer, checkman; H. Herd, deputy sheriff, of Westmoreland county, and Tom White.

INDIANA PROBER IN CITY

A nation-wide fight is on to abolish the Ku Klux Klan. Striking through the attorneys general of several states, who are acting in concert, foes of the organization are planning legal action to have the Klan declared a public nuisance.

This fact developed today when Attorney General Arthur L. Gillion, of Indiana, sent his special assistant, Fred L. Gause, to Pittsburgh to confer with Van A. Barrickman, one of five litigants in a Federal Court suit for $100,000 damages. Depositions and other material obtained by Barrickman in a recent tour of the Southern states are desired by the Indiana official in an investigation into Klan activities in that state.

While Barrickman obtained testimony from numerous witnesses of alleged atrocities of the Klan in his Southern trip, under-cover men employed by state prosecuting officers have been at work at the same time. Gause was kept in the background by Barrickman, who said that he could not uncover his hand in advance of the trial here, which is set for April 9 in the United States District Court.

Barrickman admitted that he had collected a mass of testimony "which would drive the klan out of business" often he had taken the stand and testified in court. He said he was in conference with Gause. He also declared that, foreseeing the shift in public opinion

REED DROPS BID FOR DELEGATE; BACKS DAVIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Senator Reed of Pennsylvania withdrew yesterday as a candidate to be one of his state's seven delegates at large to the Republican national convention.

Having already announced his candidacy for re-election to the Senate, Mr. Reed said in a formal statement that it "seems wiser not to have my name appear in two places on the same ballot."

"I trust," Senator Reed added, "that my withdrawal will make possible the selection of the Secretary of Labor, Mr. James J. Davis, who, for the sake of party harmony in 1924, withdrew his own name from consideration as a delegate-at-large, and whose successful service in President Coolidge's cabinet clearly entitles him to this honor at the hands of his fellow Republicans in Pennsylvania."

Reed and Davis both are from Pittsburgh. The Senator was a delegate to the Cleveland convention in 1924 and is credited with having had a large part in bringing about the nomination of Charles G. Dawes for the vice presidency.

The Reed statement came closely after the disclosure today that former Gov. Gifford Pinchot had decided not to enter the senatorial race in Pennsylvania against Reed. There are indications, however, that Representative Morin, who is chairman of the House Military Committee, may enter the race against Reed for the Republican senatorial nomination instead of seeking reelection to the House from his Pittsburgh district. He was represented today as not having made up his mind what he will do.

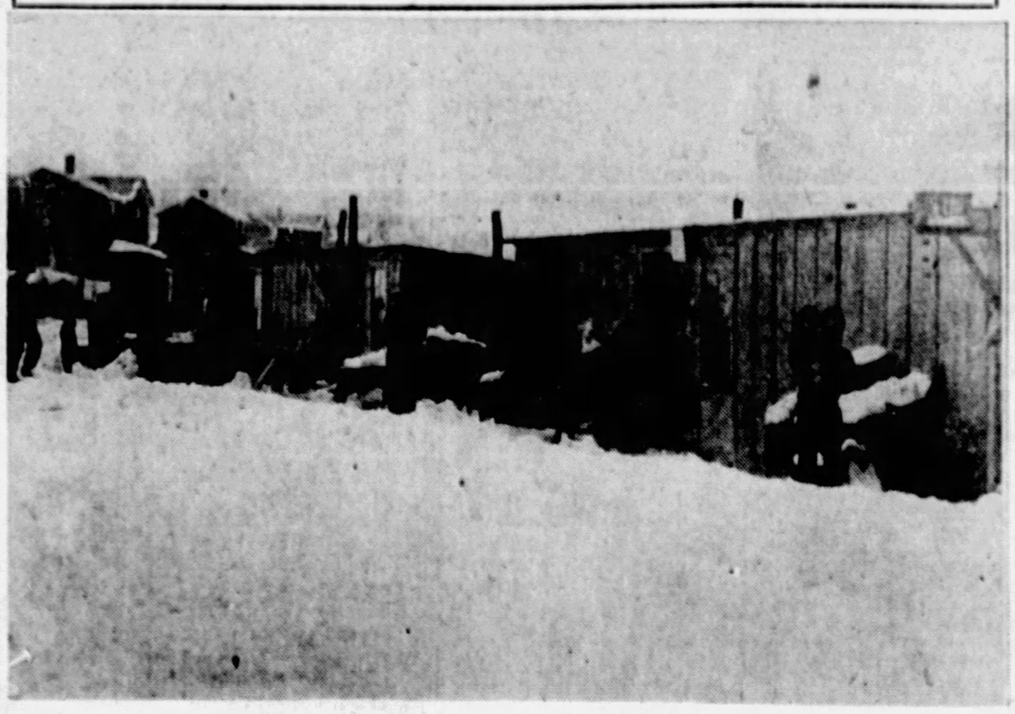
CHURCH WHERE MINERS MEET TO SING HYMNS, STORM CENTER IN ROSSITER STRIKE



STRIKERS' RALLYING PLACE

Every morning at 6, every afternoon at 3 o'clock, the former employes of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, of which Gov. John S. Fisher was once vice president, meet here to sing hymns. Judge J. N. Langham, who enjoined them not to gather and sing on the church lot, has sent them a check to buy hymn books. In the lower right hand corner is the shack of deputy sheriffs who keep constant watch to see the injunction is obeyed. A miner's family living in barrack is shown in the inset.

WHERE EVICTED MINERS LIVE

Thirty-three families are living in barracks constructed of one-inch boards and tar paper. Sixty-seven families are reported to be destitute. Two benefit shows for their relief will be given in the Stanley-Davis-Clark Theater in Punxsutawney tomorrow. Not withstanding that it was enjoined against "distributing pecuniary contributions" in support of the strike, the union is making small payments to its members. The strikers hope for a settlement in spring, when, they say, many strikebreakers who are farmers will return to their farms. The company says it production is up to pre-strike level and it is turning away many applicants for jobs.

UNION LEADERS

Left to right: The Rev. A. J. Phillips, pastor of the strikers' church and vice president of the local union at Rossiter; Robert Slee, secretary, and John Ferrio, treasurer of the union. They were among the principal defendants in the injunction proceedings. Pastor Phillips and his flock meet twice daily and sing "I Am On the Winning Side With Jesus."

Pork Loins, lb. 18c

Tender 8 to 10-pound loins from young pigs. Small, lean—of superior quality—taste just like chicken when roasted. Not to be compared with heavy loins sold in many stores which cost several cents less a pound. Any size roast at this price.

(Overflow Service at Diamond Annex)

McCANN'S
Perfect Butter
lb. 55c

Flavor is the outstanding quality in "Perfect" Butter—sweet and creamy. "Perfect" stays sweet longer than any other butter you can buy.

DELRA
"The New Spread for Bread"
The Unusual Oleomargarine
Exclusively McCann's. Don't expect to find it at other stores. It's our own blend of the finest animal and vegetable oils. Contains 3525 calories of energy to the pound. Use it as you would any other spread for bread.

"Shellwhite"
Fresh Eggs
doz. 50c

Fresh Country
Eggs, 2 doz. 79c

Green PEAS, ½ pk. 39c

A breath of summer! Large, tender, telephone peas, fresh from California gardens. Sweet and flavory. Seldom sold for less than this even at the height of the "home-grown" season.

(Overflow Service at Diamond Annex)

Blenheim Apricots 3 lbs. 89c

Extra fancy apricots—an excellent substitute for prunes—very beneficial—a necessary article of diet. A splendid tonic—one of the "regulating" fruits.

Fresh Stewing Hens lb. 40c

Now is the time Stewing Hens are nicest. They are young, tender pullets of a size to make them full-meated and flavory. These Hens may be used in almost any way you desire. Ideal for making gravy or rich broth. Even suitable for roasting.

Maricaibo Sponge Cake ea. 48c

Two 7" layers of moist, sponge cake, covered with Maricaibo Chocolate Icing. One of the popular items in our bakery.

Chicken a la King, pt. 65c

Ever popular for party lunches. Tender little bits of chicken combined with mushrooms in a rich, cream sauce. Warm and serve on toast.

Fresh Oysters! pt. 39c

"Standards"—the size commonly used for stewing. Fresh from Maryland where they have been placed in sealed containers under government inspection. Kept under ice during shipment and after arrival here.

"Counts" for cocktails and "Selects" for frying, slightly higher.

McCann's Coffee "Supreme" 3 lbs. $1.30

Coffee "Supreme" makes a rich, fragrant "cup" lacking in bitterness and with a flavor all its own. Goes further than ordinary coffee—35 cups to the pound. Economical in the end.

Mild Cream Cheese lb. 37c

Mild new cheese, of excellent flavor. Creamy and nourishing.

SAYS BLACKMER GOT $750,000 IN OIL DEAL

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Henry M. Blackmer, former head of the Midwest Refining Company, who fled to Europe, it was said, to escape the oil trials, received $750,000 of the Continental Trading Company's mysterious $3,083,000 Liberty bond "slush fund," Karl C. Schuyler, of Denver, his personal attorney, told the Senate Public Lands Committee today.

The bonds have been held for the two years in the vaults of the Equity Trust Company of New York in the name of a joint account held by George E. Holmes, George Gordon Battle and Schuyler, the witness said. This method of keeping the bonds, Schuyler said, was decided on as a means of proving that Blackmer was not profiting from his share of the Continental bonds.

against them, leaders of the klan are attempting to save themselves and the remnant of their followers by forming a new order known as the "Knights of the Great Forest."

Several southern states and nearly all the central states have active anti-klan elements who are beatirring their officials to act in the movement to abolish the organization, it was learned from those who are leading the fight here. The united plan calls for proceedings in these states to be started in April about the time the suit in Pittsburgh goes to trial.

Coincident with the damage suit, the court will hold a hearing April 9 in the injunction proceedings brought by the Klan to have Rev. John F. Starver, Dr. Charles S. Hunter, Dr. Charles F. Oyer, William C. Davis and Attorney Barrickman restrained from interfering with the operation of the Klan. A counter suit brought by the defendants seeks the appointment of a receiver for the Klan.

Good News for Expectant Mothers

Doctor's Discovery Relieves Much Unnecessary Suffering

IT has been proven conclusively that much of the suffering experienced during expectancy, as well as at childbirth, is entirely unnecessary.

Dr. Holmes' discovery, "Mother's Friend," aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, month after month, right up to the climax of child-birth!

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., writes: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used "Mother's Friend" and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Start using Mother's Friend tonight—the sooner the better and write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Mother's Friend is sold by all drug stores.

VETERANS HONOR WASHINGTON

Many patriotic services and social affairs were held by military and historical organizations here yesterday in observance of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington

The Veterans of Foreign Wars held their annual reception and ball in the William Penn Hotel last night. Mrs. Florence E. Stark of Camden, N. J., national president of the auxiliary, and J. L. Bingham, state commander, were guests of honor. At noon yesterday Mrs. Stark was tendered a reception in the Congress of Women's Clubs by the Ladies Auxiliary, Eighteenth Division Veterans Association.

Mrs. Stark also spoke yesterday at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Chapter, American War Mothers, in the old City Hall, North Side. Other guests of honor at last night's reception were County Controller Robert G. Woodside and County Chairman C. E. Dailey of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. W. A. Gordon of Braddock past national president of the legion auxiliary.

A Washington birthday party was held yesterday by members of the boys' division at the East Liberty Y. M. C. A. Newsboys were entertained. The Rev. Dr. Jacob S. Payton was the speaker at a patriotic service held last night in the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Payton is a former pastor of the church.

COUTTS LEAVES $60,000 TO KIN

Three generations of the family of the late Thomas Coutts are provided for in his will, filed for probate today, which disposes of a $60,000 estate. The income from the estate is left to his widow, Mrs. Laura S. Coutts, and at her death it goes to their daughter, Mrs. Margaret L. Bottsford. At the death of Mrs. Bottsford the estate is to be divided equally among her children.

The will of the late Mrs. Julia A. Dobobins, of Wilson, filed for probate, leaves an estate of $7,500 to be divided equally among her husband and their children.

VICTIM OF BURNS DIES OF PNEUMONIA

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 23.—Pneumonia, developing after she had been burned by a gas stove in her home, caused the death of Mary Kathryn Beniston, 3, of South Connellsville.

PATTON TWP. KILLER JAILED

Claudie Sigmon, 20, Negro, of Patton township, wanted for the murder of Jim Cox, 21, on January 20, and who, after escaping from detectives, was found suffering with frozen feet in the Westmoreland County Home, was committed to the county jail here on a charge of murder today.

Sigmon killed Cox, after wounding Mott Williams, 28, in Williams' house where the three resided. He escaped and two days later was found with his feet frozen near Smithton, Westmoreland county.

NORTH SIDE DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS 90 DAYS

SOMERSET, Pa., Feb. 23.—Pleading guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, Frank C. Beard, of North Side, Pittsburgh, was sentenced to pay $200 and serve 90 days in jail. He was arrested here last Saturday, after his machine was wrecked.

Less handicapped nowadays

New ideas on personal hygiene responsible, says doctor

THE DOCTOR in a leading women's college was comparing this generation of girls with those of 25 years ago.

"We don't have nearly so many illness excuses from girls nowadays", he said. "Not even at those times when there is perfectly good reason for their feeling below par. For one thing, girls have learned how important it is to keep their systems functioning normally at all times. And at times when they are most likely to be upset and thrown off balance, they take special measures".

What doctors advise girls to use on such occasions is Nujol—a spoonful every night for several days beforehand helps to keep everything normal even under abnormal conditions. For it contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try this treatment for the next three months, and see if it doesn't make things much easier for you. You'll wonder how you ever did without it.

MINE PROBERS SPURN OPERATORS' ORDERS

agreement was reached to allow Murray to accompany the investigators.

The first stop on the visit to the mines was at Mine No. 2 of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation at Castle Shannon. There the senators entered the barracks home of Joe Steck, where three youngsters were eating a mid-day meal of bread, jelly and coffee.

10 IN 4 ROOMS

Senator Wheeler questioned the children and learned that the family was composed of the mother, father and eight children. They live in four rooms.

Afterward the investigators went to another section of the barracks and visited the home of Paul Bridle, who, with his wife and seven children, also has four rooms. A stenographer with the group recorded dimensions of the rooms and other facts.

No. 3 mine of the same company at Mollenauer was the next stop. Here again the barracks of strikers were inspected, and women and children were quizzed.

The poor sanitary conditions apparently made a deep impression on the investigators. Swarms of children in dirty rooms were found, and mud ankle-deep was encountered in reaching the shacks.

From the barracks the committee members waded through more mud to reach the company property. Where usually there are groups of Coal and Iron Police, the investigators encountered only one member of the company police force.

INSPECT COMPANY STORE

The company store was inspected and the senators viewed the company homes, now occupied by non-union miners, from the outside.

Mrs. Mike Borsas, wife of a strike-breaker, was questioned as to her husband's pay. She said that he earned from $30 to $40 every two weeks, and that a large part of this was spent at the company store.

J. M. Provost, general superintendent of the mine, told the committeemen that the mine was producing an average of 9,000 short tons of coal a week, as compared with 14,000 before the strike.

The first sight at the No. 8 mine of the company at Coverdale was a sign near the strikers' barracks, "Those that strike with us strike for freedom."

A similar investigation of conditions at the camp and company property at Curry was included in the day's program.

Pardon to Allegheny Slayer

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 23.—The State Board of Pardons today announced a pardon for Steve Faytol, who in 1915 was sentenced to 18 to 20 years imprisonment by Allegheny county courts for second degree murder. Faytol's case was argued last week.

Pardon also was granted to Albert Briggs, Allegheny, whose plea for relief from his sentence was heard last month.

The board refused pardons to three other Allegheny convicts. They are: Edward Beyerley, serving for second degree murder; Charles W. Fallen, entering, and Wayne Lewars. Rehearings at the March session were allowed Jack Guastaferra, Charles Russoguio and Joseph Russoguio, whose death penalties for murder were commuted several years ago, and to Angelo Guastaferra, convicted of second degree murder in the same trial in Allegheny county.

feet high with young Mr. Chanler.

The remarkable thing about the people out here is their terrific energy.

Mr. Ochs will confirm that.

J. A. H. KERR, vice president of the Security National Bank, told the energetic "breakfasters" that this country should have a merchant marine of its own, and not rely on competitors to carry our imports and exports that for the 1927-1928 period may amount to ten thousand million dollars. The country will pay for a year's transportation at sea $600,000,000, 80 per cent of it going to foreign shipping.

THIS country, during and since the war has spent three thousand million dollars on ships, and hasn't got a merchant marine yet.

In 1850, nearly 100 years ago, American ships carried more than 89 per cent of American commerce. In 1926 only a little over 32 per cent.

THAT is something to think about in connection with the birthday of Washington who objected to entangling foreign alliances. We are bound to have such entanglements if we depend on foreign countries to carry our supplies in case of war.

NEXT week the Basque, Uscudun, whom fight fanciers for convenience call "The Spaniard Upsidedown," will fight a tall, powerful colored man named Godfrey.

This intellectual neighborhood has paid $44,000 for tickets to see what will happen to Mr. Godfrey. On mild Pacific or rough Atlantic, human nature is the same. Men will pay $10 to see a fight that would not pay $5 for the best book.

STUDENTS of anthropology will note that the Basque Uscudun, and the South American Firpo are the two most powerful, rugged men that the prize ring has seen in 100 years.

Mr. Jack Dempsey or Gene Tunney will tell you frankly:

"I'm quite willing to let someone else take care of that Uscudun person."

It seems he hits very hard, and when you hit him, he does not notice it.

FRANK LOCKHART, whom Barney Oldfield calls "the greatest automobile driver in history" drove his car 200 miles an hour on a Florida beach, lost control, shot out into the ocean and may die.

SUCH speed in automobiles is valueless because it cannot be used. Trying for it is as unwise as some "stunts" that fliers do, emphasizing the danger of flying, instead of emphasizing its safety, as they should.

IT IS to be hoped that Colonel Lindbergh, the most important young man to his country, will realize the danger and folly of unnecessary risk.

A serious accident to Lindbergh would set flying back 10 years in America. That is not what he wants.

MANY will be interested to learn from Mr. Ochs that Linbergh paid all his expenses on his trip through Mexico and the Central American republics. His flying on United States territory was financed by the Guggenheim Flying Foundation. He financed his own trip south of the Rio Grande.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY brings more arguing about George Washington's "morals," what he drank, whether he manufactured his own beer, whisky, etc.

Washington's job was to beat the British and establish the nation. He attended to both, and gave the country good advice. The rest is as unimportant as Lord Nelson's love affair with Lady Hamilton. Nelson wrote his story at Trafalgar. Rooting around in semi-historical mud will not change that.

WASHINGTON WATCHMAN KILLED BY GAS FUMES

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 23.—Arthur D. Ball, 50, a watchman employed by the Badger Electric Company at 13 West Maiden street, was found dead in the company's new quarters last midnight. A small stove was burning in the room in which Ball was found on a small cot and it is believed he was a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

tion views ; ierally, but not in detail, in a brief letter of less than 150 words, addressed to Senator William E. Borah (Rep.) of Idaho, who is seeking to pin all presidential candidates down to definite commitments upon the wet-and-dry question.

FLATLY FOR DRUG LAW

Some of Borah's pointed questions, Mr. Hoover ignored entirely.

Hoover said flatly he favored retention of the eighteenth amendment, but he did not so declare himself with relation to the Volstead act. He contented himself on this score by merely stating that he was for the amendment and favored the enforcement of all laws enacted to carry it out.

The text of his reply to Borah follows:

"My Dear Mr. Senator:

"Upon my return to Washington I have taken up your letter.

"I feel that the discussion of public questions by reply to questionnaires is likely to be unsatisfactory and often times leads to confusion rather than clarity. Replies to the scores of such inquiries in many questions are impossible.

"Out of my regard for your known sincerity and your interest in the essential question, I will, however, say again that I do not favor the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. I stand, of course, for the efficient, vigorous and sincere enforcement of the laws enacted thereunder. Whoever is chosen President has under his oath the solemn duty to pursue this courses.

"Our country has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far-reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively.

"Cordially yours,
"HERBERT HOOVER."

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simplies. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers:* Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 23.—Charles Bart, 69, former Altoona printer, was found frozen to death in the woods near Lincoln mine, Nant-y-Glo.

What your dentifrice should do

Let's get down to facts. Your dentifrice is a truly important thing. Not only sound teeth and healthy gums, but health itself may depend upon effective oral hygiene. What, then, constitutes a good dentifrice?

A good dentifrice should contain no gritty substance, no strong antiseptics, no astringents. It should cleanse the soft gum tissue without irritation and polish the enamel without scratching. And it should neutralize the dangerous acids which cause tooth decay or dangerous gum irritations.

One dentifrice on the market answers to all these qualifications: Squibb's Dental Cream. It is made with over 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, more than enough to neutralize the dangerous acids in your mouth. In addition, it is mild, non-abrasive, non-irritating. It soothes the delicate gum tissues and keeps the teeth smooth and lustrous. You will enjoy using it. On sale at all druggists—only 40 cents a large tube.

ITCHY PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

On Face and Body. Lost Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My face and body broke out with pimples and sore eruptions. The pimples were hard and red, and festered. They itched so badly that I scratched, and my face was disfigured. They bothered me so much that I could not sleep or rest. The trouble lasted about four months.

"I tried other remedies without any help. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more, and in six weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Walter Coriell, R. D. 3, New Alexandria, Pa.

Lifts Neuralgics on Their Feet

New York Specialist's Prescription Amazes Hospitals and Physicians

DRUGGISTS GUARANTEE NURITO

So many thousands have found quick relief from neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and rheumatism thru Nurito that it has now become the standard relief throughout the world. It was discovered by a New York specialist famous in the East for the speed at which his own prescription banishes pains and aches. He has finally been persuaded to place it at the disposal of the general public through drug stores everywhere. Nurito contains no opiates or narcotics and is absolutely harmless. He has authorized druggists to guarantee that a few doses of Nurito will stop the most intense pain even of many years' standing—or your money will be instantly refunded.

If you want to feel again the joy of living, banish needless agony, and sleep soundly at night, go to your druggist at once and ask him to let you try Nurito, under this money-back guarantee. At all druggists and McCulloch Drug Stores.

WRIT DISMISSED, SENATE RE-ARRESTS STEWART

150 GLEEMEN TO SING IN COLLEGE CONTEST

The second annual intercollegiate glee club contest of Pennsylvania will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in Carnegie Music Hall. There will be 150 men from Penn State, Bucknell, Juniata, Allegheny and Carnegie Tech. The winner of the contest will go to New York to compete with the other winners of Eastern states. The winner of that contest will later be sent to Europe on a concert tour. The judges are Dr. Will Earhart, Ernest Lunt and J. Fred Lissfelt.

OIL KING PUTS UP BOND FOR APPEAL

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The writ of habeas corpus by which Col. Robert W. Stewart, multi-millionaire head of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, secured his release from arrest by the United States Senate two weeks ago, was dismissed today by Justice Jennings Bailey in District Supreme Court.

The court's action automatically remanded the oil magnate to the custody of the Senate, and Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms John J. McGrain was on hand to take charge of him.

Stewart's attorneys, however, immediately gave notice of appeal, and Justice Bailey fixed the bond at $5,000, which was posted.

Thus Stewart gains his freedom from physical detention until such time as the Court of Appeals passes upon his case. It is the intention of the oil man's attorneys to fight the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Newsie Sold "Sun" and "Tele" On the Streets of Pittsburgh; Now Writer of Big Song Hits

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

FIRST of all, Harry Carroll, who it at the head of the Revue in the Davis Theater this week, is not related in any way to Earl Carroll, though he is a song writer like Earl, and a Pittsburgh boy like Earl, Harry Carroll came here at the age of 12 with his family, and they lived for years near the corner of Center avenue and Soho. Harry learned to play the piano, and played in a popular arcade for a while. But times became hard, and he had only $20 left, so he decided to dispense news instead of melody. He sold the "Sun" and the "Chronicle Telegraph" every afternoon, so that he is a member of the newspaper profession as well as a popular song writer.

It was after he moved to New York, and secured work with a music publisher, that he started to write songs—words and music. His first hit was "On the Mississippi," but his biggest success was "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which sold 2,000,000 copies and still is immensely popular. A song that sells 200,000 is considered a big hit.

But before he started writing songs himself, Harry had resigned from his position in the music publishing house. The reason was a queer one. He had an uncomfortable conscience. Words would be brought to him, and he would be asked to write music—any sort of a tune. Music would be brought to him, and he would be asked to write words—any sort of "sob stuff." Inside of three weeks he discovered that these poor poets and composers—poor in talent and poor in purse—were being fleeced. They were asked by the publisher to pay the cost of publishing the songs, and thus the publisher made his profit. The song never got any further unless the victim bought a lot of copies himself and gave them away, if he could get anybody to accept them.

"It was a skin game," said Mr. Carroll, "and I did not want to have anything to do with it. All song-writers should be warned that when they see glowing advertisements: 'Get Music Written for the Words of Your Song,' they should beware of sharks. Young people hear of great fortunes made by a successful song, hit, and they think they can write one, too. They write something about home or mother, and think a good composer is all that's needed to put them in a class with Irving Berlin. They get into the jaws of the song-publishing sharks—and are persuaded to pay the cost of publication—and are poorer but wiser as a result. The song, of which a few hundred copies have been printed, never had any chance even if it had any merit. A good publisher will not expect a poet or composer to pay for the publication of a good song. It is his own business to take that chance."

Harry Carroll is 37 today, and with all his success is just as affable and hard-working as if he were still selling the "Sun-Tele" instead of writing song-hits and amusing thousands by his Revue. He had lots of fun, too, selling papers. Some day when he has made enough money from his songs he is going back to the happy life of a newsie.

TWO THEATERS KEEP PLAYS

Anatole Friedland brings his Club Anatole company and revue to the Stanley Theater for the opening week, beginning Monday night. The revue will be presented precisely as it was shown in New York, it is announced. "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" will be the screen attraction.

Lenore Ulric, in "Lulu Belle," is to remain in the Nixon for a second week, beginning next Monday, seats for which are on sale today. "Lulu Belle" was written especially for Miss Ulric by Edward Sheldon and Charles McArthur and it is being presented by David Belasco.

"Broadway" will remain in the Pitt for a second week, for which the seats are now on sale. This drama, which plays a matinee today, has a cast headed by Walter Glass and Loretta Shea.

"Greenwich Village Follies," 1928 edition, will be presented in the Alvin for one week only, beginning Monday, February 27. Principals include Blossom Seeley, Dr. Rockwell, Grace Brinkley, Benny Fields, Jack Sanborn, Jans and Whalen. Seats are on sale today.

Tom Payne and Vera Hilliard will present a novel skit, "Humor Ancient and Modern," in the Davis vaudeville next week. Esther Ralston in "Love and Learn" will be the photoplay.

James Barrie's story and play, "Quality Street," is to be the feature picture in the Aldine next week. Marion Davies stars in it, with Conrad Nagel in the male lead.

"East Side, West Side," from the novel of Felix Riesenberg, will be the photoplay attraction in the Grand next week. George O'Brien and Virginia Valli have the principal roles.

Greta Garbo and Lars Hanson, two prominent Swedish film players, appear together in "The Divine Woman," which will play Loew's Penn next week. A Swedish director, Victor Seastrom, also participated in the making of the picture.

Vaudeville in the Harris next week includes Artie Mehlinger, famous songster and composer. The photoplay feature will be "Legionaires in Paris," with Kit Guard and Al Cooke.

Frank Harcourt and Vivian Kent head the cast of "Frivolities of 1928," next week's burlesque in the Academy.

A feature in the Sheridan Square next week will be Princess Wa-Le-Ka, American Indian Soprano. One of the feature photoplays will be "East Side, West Side," with George O'Brien and Virginia Valli.

The George Sharp Production Stock Company will open its second season of summer plays in the Pitt Easter Monday, April 9. Mr. Sharp has spent the winter months contracting for new plays and assembling a company selected to please his friends in Pittsburgh.

February 27 will usher in the third week of the photoplay-Vitaphone version of "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson, in the Olympic.

When motors break down— the cost isn't confined to repairs

When power apparatus fails, every hour of idleness adds to the total cost. For that reason, the Westinghouse Service Shop gets your machines back on the line with all possible speed.

In one instance our service engineers, called to repair a high-powered motor operating a ventilating fan, found 32 coils of windings completely destroyed. Yet the motor was back in service 14 hours later. At another time men from the same shop repaired an electric furnace, including rewinding of the transformer, between 9:30 in the evening and 6:30 in the morning.

Westinghouse Service Shops CAN save time on steam and electrical work because the men know how to proceed, and they have the tools and materials to let them get into action promptly. Call them—in any emergency—day or night.

SCOUR CITY FOR LOST WOMAN VISITOR

Given a "trust you" ride to Pittsburgh from her home in Masontown on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad yesterday, Mrs. John Thomas, 25, disappeared after her arrival in Pittsburgh, it was reported to the Missing Persons Bureau today.

Mrs. Thomas, coming to Pittsburgh to visit a sister-in-law, Miss Jean Thomas, 4701 Ellsworth avenue, left her purse, containing her ticket and money, in her husband's automobile in Masontown in the rush to board the train.

The conductor, an acquaintance, is said to have allowed the woman to ride to Pittsburgh, with the understanding that she would give him the ticket later.

In Pittsburgh, Mrs. Thomas wired her husband for funds. Nothing has been seen or heard of her since. Miss Thomas notified the Travelers' Aid Society and the Missing Persons Bureau.

RAID RECORDS GARBLED

In a story printed Tuesday it was stated that police raided an alleged disorderly house at 515 East Lacock street. Today, Mrs. Nannie Smith, living at that address, said that the raided house is at 514 East Lacock street. Police records at the Allegheny Police Station give the address at 515 East Lacock street, but the patrolman on the beat said that 514 was the place raided.

DEATH ROLL

John T. Jessen.

John T. Jessen, 69, died yesterday in his hime, 641 Maplewood avenue, Ambridge. He was born in Germany and came to the United States at the age of 21, settling in Nebraska. There he met John S. Duss, members of the Economite colony which settled Economy, later Ambridge. He served as superintendent of the Harmony Society until its holdings were sold.

He then engaged in the brick contracting business until 10 years ago, when he retired. He was treasurer of the first Ambridge school board and served 11 years on the board. He also served on the water commission and council of Ambridge. He was a charter member of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church and a member of the I. O. O. F. and L. O. O. M. lodges of Ambridge. He leaves three daughters, two sons and eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Dorothea Counahan.

Mrs. Dorothea M. Counahan, 56, died yesterday in St. Margaret's Hospital. She was born in Pittsburgh, a daughter of the late Max and Celestine Kohler, pioneer settlers of the old Thirteenth ward. Mrs. Counahan was a charter member of St. Raphael's Catholic Church and was one of the first residents in the Morningside district. She leaves her husband, James M. Counahan; three sons, and three grandchildren.

William H. Holbrook.

William H. Holbrook, 64, of 3272 Ashlyn street, died in the Mercy Hospital yesterday. Mr. Holbrook had been employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for the last 47 years and was road foreman of engines on the Panhandle division for 24 years. He was a member of the Corliss Presbyterian Church and of Centennial Lodge No. 554, Free and Accepted Masons. He leaves his wife, a son and daughter.

Mrs. Emma L. Griffith.

Mrs. Emma L. Griffith, 79, of 1936 Lacross street, Swissavle, died at her home Tuesday morning. She was the widow of J. M. Griffith, former tax collector for Braddock. She leaves three sons, three daughters, seven grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

CHURCH CLUB TO HOLD PARENT-CHILD BANQUET

The Simeon Club of the St. Paul A. M. E. Church, Sylvania avenue and Montooth street, will hold a father and son and a mother and daughter banquet tomorrow night in the church auditorium. The Rev. L. V. Jones is pastor and Mrs. Flora Hance and William Briggs will be in charge of the affair.

NEGROES ROB MAN AT DOOR OF HOME

Frank Frisco, 15 Soho street, was held up early this morning by two Negroes within a few steps of his home and robbed of $15.

A pair of trousers, a watch and $34, was taken from the office of Lane's Hotel, 118 Anderson street, by thieves who forced open the office door.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Pittsburghers Find Time to Mingle Fine Arts and Music With Industrial Activities

PITTSBURGH may have the reputation of being a strictly industrial city, but we who live here know that that is neither fair nor true in view of the widespread interest in the arts that prevails. The international exhibit, the Associated Artists' work, the symphony society movement—these alone indicate that there is a keen appreciation of music and painting here,

And now, on next Thursday, there is going to be the second in a series of morning musicales which is being sponsored by a group of women headed by Mrs. Taylor Allderdice—women who are interested in creating greater opportunities for good programs among music lovers who are not professionals. The first of these musicals was held on February 1 in Mrs. Allderdice's home in Wilkins avenue, and next week's is to be held in the same place. The third is scheduled for April 2.

The guests at Thursday's musicale are likely to find the program quite above the average, given, as it will be, by sound musicians. There will be several piano numbers by Mrs. C. H. Henninger, and Mrs. F. W. Edmondson is going to sing. Then there will be a quartet of women's voices, composed of Mrs. Walter E. Close, Mrs. William O'Lee, Mrs. J. C. Lockhart and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, with Mrs. Adelaine Merrill Biddle as the accompanist.

With Lent just one day old and already giving warning that there is not going to be much in the way of entertaining in the next few weeks, it is comforting to be able to report a few parties down South One of them was a tea held recently in St. Petersburg, Fla., by Mrs. William Stacey Lockard, of the Lantern Lane Apartments. She entertained in honor of Miss Hester L. McEldowney, of Aylesboro avenue, who is stopping at the Vinoy Park Hotel, St. Petersburg, for the winter.

You remember, of course, that Mrs. John R. Grabowsky and her daughter, Mary Louise, have been in Pasadena for most of the winter. Now they are planning an even more pleasant excursion. They are going to leave in March, I understand, for a trip to Honolulu.

Quite a few of our local people have been attracted to Nassau, in the Bahamas, this year, Martha Chalfant, daughter of the Henry Chalfants, of Ridge avenue, and Eleanor McCargo, daughter of the Grant McCargos of Woodland road, are there for the whole season, and the Paul B. Dickeys are also arrivals in the island city. Several Pittsburghers were guests at a teadance which was given not long ago on H. M. S. "Cairo," which was at anchor in Nassau Bay. The hosts were Capt. J. A. G. Troup, R. N., Commander Jackson and Surgical Commander Ford.

Mrs. James H. Greene of Fair Oaks street and Mrs. C. Frederick Newman of DeVictor place are planning to give a bridge luncheon Tuesday afternoon, March 6, in the University Club.

A supper party will be given Saturday night in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association by C. A. Stover of the Morrowfield apartments in honor of William M. Reed of Maracaibo, Venezuela, South America, who has been visiting his parents in Beaver. Mr. Reed will sail next Wednesday on the Montroyal for South America, and Mr. Stover will accompany him.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Gladys Wieland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wieland of Marshall avenue, North Side, and Edmund R. Brehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brehm of the North Side, was solemnized February 15 in the Wieland home by the Rev. Dr. W. I. Wishart. Miss Mae E. Shannon and Leslie Lappe were the attendants. After March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Brehm will be at home in Marshall avenue.

BRADDOCK WOMEN HEAR "SOUTH AMERICA" TALK

The beauties and magnitude of the country, the lack of moral consciousness among its people, the curse of peonage, the great illiteracy and the hope that lies in the people's power of assorption were all discussed by the Rev. Dr. Albert Edward Day yesterday before the Woman's Club of Braddock when he spoke on "South America." The Braddock women met in the Edgewood Club and had as guests a large number of members from the Woman's Club of Swissvale and representatives from a dozen or so other organizations, all of whom were given recognition by Mrs. J. A. Gettig, Braddock president. Mrs. Gettig's address of welcome was a call to patriotism of the kind that means prevention of fire and flood, the protection of property against trespass, conservation of plants and trees and observance of safety and traffic laws. Two groups of soprano solos were effectively presented by Mrs. Adele Eggers Furniss, with Mrs. W. H. Patterson, who also gave piano solos, accompanying. The tea hour with Mrs. Richard Hurrell and a large committee in charge concluded the afternoon.

Owing to the unprecedented demand for reservations which have outgrown Congress clubhouse capacity, the dinner on Monday for Mrs. Edward Franklin White, of Indianapolis, has been moved to the Fort Pitt Hotel. At the dinner Mrs. White will make the same address which she is to give before Congress the next day in Washington to introduce her bill on uniform marriage and divorce. Dinner reservations are to be made before Saturday noon through Mrs. S. S. Stingel, Mrs. F. H. Wood, Mrs. William Kenold or Mrs. J. M. Moore and men as well as women will be guests. Mrs. White, who is first vice president of the General Federation of Womens' Clubs, also is a candidate for the presidency.

"The country that could produce Lincoln, Washington and Grover Cleveland has some great nobility that leads it to choose rightly in great emergencies," said Thomas Patterson in his address to the Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, yesterday. The Daughters were holding their annual Washington's Birthday luncheon in the Hotel Schenley, the principal feature of which was Mr. Patterson's address on Washington. It was largely a biography of the first President, from which Mr. Patterson drew evidence that Washington could not have been what some present-day detractors would make him.

"Such writers would never find an audience were the subject not such a large one," the speaker observed. A letter in Washington's own handwriting, framed and the property of Mr. Patterson, was the object of much interest at the luncheon.

Charming decorations, both ribbon and floral, were carried out in red, white and blue. The invocation was by the Rev. Dr. Henry R. Browne, and there was music, assembly singing and an instrumental trio.

Seven judges will pass upon the awards in the fourth annual amateur players' contest, to be held under auspices of the Pittsburgh Drama League during the week of April 15. The judges will be: George Seibel, playwright, dramatic critic and literary editor; B. Iden Payne of the department of drama, Carnegie Institute of Technology; George M. P. Baird, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Art Commission; Mrs. Florence Fisher Parry, dramatic critic; Miss Bertha Fuhrer, of the Byron King School of Oratory; Miss Bertha B. Steckel, of the Steckel School of Expression, Greensburg; and Miss Elizabeth Howe, vice president of the Pittsburgh Drama League. Registrations will close March 1. Mrs. Lane Thompson, of Mattern avenue, Pittsburgh, is chairman of the contest committee.

The Woman's Club of Ingram will have as its speaker next Monday Mrs. R. W. Johnston, chairman of international relations for the State Federation. Mrs. Job Burton is named as leader for the afternoon and Mrs. R. W. Scott and Mrs. Frank C. Rex will sing. The club is arranging for a musicale to be held in the Ingram School on March 6, the music committee sponsoring the event.

Hadassah Chapter will hold a party Thursday afternoon, March 8, at the home of Mrs. Ben W. Green, of Beechwood boulevard, for the benefit of the Palestine supplies committee, of which Mrs. Joseph Malakoff is chairman, and which has as its purpose the supplying of the hospitals of Palestine with linens and medical dressings. Mrs. Moses Krieger will be chairman of the afternoon and the program will be given by Miss Rhea M. Colker, reader; Mrs. Gertrude Green Leibowitz, pianist, and Mrs. Edith Canter Lazear, soprano, accompanied by Miss Gazella Pallas.

A sauerkraut supper will be served by the Women's Society of the Brushton Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday from 5:30 to 8 o'clock.

At a meeting on March 7 of Allegheny County Council, Ladies, Auxiliaries, Veterans of Foreign Wars, new officers will be installed. Mrs. I. M. Stanford is the new president and Mrs. Joseph Heyl the treasurer. Mrs. George M. Armstrong will be the installing officer. A reception for the officers and for several honor guests will follow among the latter being Mrs. Adele Fritsch, of Philadelphia, past department president; Mrs. Charles Murray, of Oil City, department secretary, and J. L. Bingham, department commander.

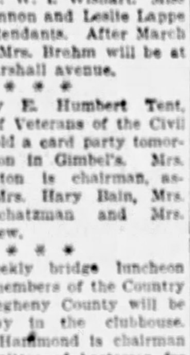
$3,000,000 INVESTED IN LEGS YEARLY

New York, N. Y.—To develop the symmetrical legs and twinkling toes that musical comedy demands, girls on the stage or girls with stage aspirations are reported to spend $3,000,000 a year in New York alone.



Dorothy Wegman, "Follies" dancer.

To clothe the beautiful legs of stars and choruses, another fortune is spent. Producers have been known to tear their hair over stocking bills, a night's high stepping being as hard on chiffon hosiery as a month of ordinary wear by the average girl.

In recent statements the producers report efforts to decrease stocking bills. They say they have discovered that if stockings are cleansed in Lux, they stay like new twice as long, give twice as many performances.

"I would use Lux if it cost $1.00 a box," Eddie Dowling, star and producer, remarked.

Now the wardrobe mistress of every musical comedy in New York uses Lux in cleansing the thousands of pairs of stockings worn by their choruses—to get double stocking wear.

The makers of Lux say that the secret of the long wear of fabrics washed in Lux is the absolute purity of Lux, and its instant rich suds that make rubbing unnecessary.

Harmful alkali (found in many soaps) and rubbing with cake soap, quickly wear out fabrics.

HENRY CLIVE, one of the foremost American illustrators, whose portraits of ravishing girls appear on the covers of many of the country's leading magazines.

FEW women realize the tremendous difference that a slight change in the shade of their face powder can make. Few understand how one shade of powder—Rachel, for example—can give even the most ordinary skin a radiant loveliness, a beauty and warmth of color that are astonishing. While on the same skin the Rachel of another powder fails miserably—looks commonplace.

Mr. Henry Clive, noted illustrator and painter of beautiful women, who has proved this in experiments on professional models, writes:

"In my opinion the exquisite and unusual Houbigant shades simulate most naturally the average skin texture and color, and emphasize as nothing else can the latent beauty of the flesh tones."

Houbigant face powders are offered in 6 distinct shades and 12 lovely Houbigant odeurs—75c and $1.50. Also for purse use in the smart new double compact—$2.50. For the perfect powder base, smart women prefer the new Quelques Fleurs Skin Lotion—4 oz., $1.

HOUBIGANT face powder in the new size 75¢

Houbigant face powders may be had in the following shades: Naturelle, Ocre, Rachel, Rose, Ocre Rose, and Blanche, and in all the most famous of Houbigant fragrances.

WALSH TO SIFT POLICEMAN'S SHOOTING

Being unsatisfied with the report of South Side police officers made in connection with the shooting of Motorcycle Patrolman Lee P. Dumont in his home at 224 Smith street, yesterday, Supt. Peter P. Walsh of the Police Bureau will make an investigation of his own. Dumont is said to have been accidentally wounded by his wife, who moved his revolver from a chair.

Supt. Walsh said that the report showed that two shots had been fired, one striking Dumont, who was asleep in bed, and the other going through a window. Dumont is in the Mercy Hospital, a bullet wound in the left thigh. No arrests have been made. Supt. Walsh said that one accidental shot could easily be explained, but two shots require an investigation.

E. E. BANDIT TAKES $107

Alone in his confectionery store at 5331 Penn avenue, early today, Marcus Rudin was forced to turn over $107 to an armed Negro, who entered the store and flourished a revolver. Rudin had just finished counting the day's receipts and had replaced them in the cash register.

URGED TO QUIT USHER JOB, GIRL TAKES POISON

Virginia May Parker, 16, of 810 Madison avenue, North Side, who, police say, attempted suicide in her home late yesterday by drinking poison, was reported to be recovering this morning in the Allegheny General Hospital. Police say the girl's mother, Mrs. Helen Hofer, had requested the daughter to give up her job as an usher in a movie theater and work at home. The girl replied that she "would rather die first," and then drank poison, police say.

COCAINE IS KING IN UNDERWORLD

For these crimes in police circles "Coke stuff" is what they call gun plays, hold-ups, hold robberies, outrageous and maniacal murders. All these things are tarred with the same unmistakable brush.

All these crimes, are nearly all of them, are committed by men who go for "sleigh rides," as they call a cocaine party in that strange secret whispering life we call the underworld.

Cocaine is as much a part of underworld life as food and drink is a part of normal, healthy, human existence.

Cocaine begins in the underworld and ends there—but it does not stay there all the time. There are cocaine parties that are nowhere near the slums, and there are "snow birds" who move in the very best society in every city in America.

Cocaine and the automobile—these two factors have changed the whole police problem of America.

Coke—Law's Nightmare

Ten years ago nobody had ever heard of an armored car in a peaceful, commercial, downtown district—in a peaceful, commercial city.

Now the banks use them as a matter of course.

Are times harder? Do men need money more than they did years ago? Are the money guards and the police less efficient—not so quick, not so courageous as they used to be? Is this the reason of the armored car?

Ask the first police official you meet, and he'll laugh at you.

"Coke," he'll say. "Coke or heroin, or maybe marijuana, but it's mostly 'coke.'

"Cocaine commits more than 60 per cent of the crimes of violence in America today. The gang that's going to rob a bank, or hold up a little storekeeper 'peps up' on cocaine to make the killing and they make their get-away in a high-powered automobile.

"Coke and the motor car—they're the first aids to crime in this country today."

Not Timid Today

Ask your own chief of police about it; he'll tell you.

Ask your chief in San Francisco. Ask your chief in Chicago. Ask your chief in New York. It's the same story. Cocaine, "dope." That's the answer, or at least the most important part of the answer to the armored car question.

Ten years ago burglars crept into a bank in the dead of the night, drilled the safe and blew it up, or in some way worked the combination and got away with their theft—perhaps.

Nine times out of 10 they were caught before they were half through with the work.

Today the thief does not wait for nightfall. He does not wait for any special hour, excepting the hour when he knows where the money is going to be.

Bold "Snowbirds"

When he knows that, he and his "gang" walk into the bank, hold up the cashier, take the money, step into a fast motor car and are gone—all in broad daylight with the street full of spectators.

What gives them the boldness for this sort of work?

Cocaine or heroin. There's no secret about that.

What about the daylight holdups of small shops? What about the payroll robberies? What about the theater box-office raids? How many of this sort of thing have you had in your own town in the last year or two? Whoever heard of such things 10 years ago?

Now the police blotters are crowded with records of them.

Daytime or night time—a lonely place or a street full of people—it's all one to the "snow bird" and his friends.

Coke Crimes Brutal

Gerhard Kuhne, chief of the bureau of criminal identification in the city of New York, says:

"The atrocious manner in which the victims of holdup men are abused and uselessly maimed shows conclusively that the gun men while committing these crimes are not rational.

"I doubt if they would have the courage to attempt such crime if they were not full of drugs at the time.

"This is verified by the fact that in all crimes of violence of recent years, where the offenders are apprehended, they are found to be drug addicts and admit that they were loaded with drugs when they committed the crime.

"The notorious Whittemore gang, who have all been recently convicted, one to be hung, two more to serve 40 years each, and the others not yet sentenced, all use drugs.

"Drugs are the cause of from 50 to 75 per cent of our crimes in New York City today, and throughout New York state."

It is the same story from east to west and from north to south.

Put an intelligent detective on the trail of a man who has just committed some peculiarly atrocious murder, or some amazingly bold robbery and that detective will start his work by looking first of all for the man's "snow bird" friends and his "coke" trail.

Cocaine's Effects

A "snow bird" crime has fingermarks that are as plain as day to any experienced police officer and to every detective who knows his business.

Gun men who run in "gangs" are almost without exception "coke" addicts. Where morphine dulls

Will Hand-Picks Californians of Future

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 23.—I am here in Iowa looking over the future Californians. We are just picking the best. We are not letting 'em all come like they used to, its restricted immigration now. This state has been trying for 7 straight years to get an election held to vote bonds for roads. The election requires half the voters to vote. Well the roads have been so bad they have never been able to get the voters to town. So now they have called an election for the month of May. That gives them an entire month to come in horse back and vote.

FINE FOR CHILDREN!
Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe, pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive colors. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

ENJOINS SINGING, HELPS MINERS BUY HYMNALS

SON OF STRIKE LEADER WORKS IN MINE

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

ROSSITER, Pa., Feb. 23.—Judge J. N. Langham, of the Court of Common Pleas at Indiana, Pa., who enjoined the striking coal miners here against congregating on the Magyar Presbyterian Church lot and singing, has sent them a check to buy hymn books.

Robert James, one of the deputy sheriffs stationed in a guard house in front of the church to enforce the injunction, has also contributed to the hymnal fund.

Leon Phillips, son of the Rev. A. J. Phillips, the strikers' militant leader, has gone to work as a strikebreaker.

The first thing that greets the visitor to Rossiter is a sign on the strikers' barracks, proclaiming that a strike is on—this, notwithstanding that Judge Langham's injunction forbids "erecting or causing to be erected or maintaining billboards for purposes of displaying signs warning men to stay away from Rossiter."

Despite the fact that the strikers, "their associates, aiders, abettors and agents, or any other person" acting with them, are enjoined against "distributing pecuniary contributions" in support of the strike, the union is making payments to its members, and a Quaker woman from Philadelphia came to town with a truckload of supplies bearing a sign "RELIEF FOR ROSSITER STRIKERS." A deputy sheriff remonstrated feebly against this last.

CLASHES ALMOST DAILY

But the ban on picketing, loitering and assembling is enforced with a degree of strictness that brings almost daily clashes between the strikers and the authorities.

Here in Gov. John S. Fisher's home county the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, of which he was vice president and attorney up to the time that he took up his residence in the executive mansion at Harrisburg, is engaged in a struggle with its workers no less bitter than that going on between the striking miners and the coal companies at Pittsburgh.

It is against the former employes of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation that Judge Langham issued his famous injunction—an injunction so drastic that the United Mine Workers are circulating copies throughout the country, without a word of comment, for purposes of propaganda.

ALL PICKETING FORBIDDEN

The authors of most of the injunctions that have resulted from the strike have allowed picketing in a modest way; they have not completely interdicted peaceable persuasion as a method of keeping strikebreakers away from the mines. But Judge Langham made no such concession to the demand for the right of free speech and assembly, and the consequence is that dozens of police are kept busy.

It is but fair to Judge Langham, however, to report that the injunction was issued as a temporary measure. After Senator Hiram Johnson of California had directed attention to the edict in a denunciatory speech in the Senate as one of the things which made a senatorial investigation of the strike desirable, Judge Langham wrote to Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania that he would welcome an inquiry.

The injunction was intended to stay in force until the defendants had presented themselves in court and answered the complaints on which it was based, and they were to have the right to show cause why it should be revoked or modified. But "it looks as though the defendants don't want a hearing," said Judge Langham.

Officers of the union replied to this that through their attorney, Bruce Sciotti, of Indiana, they had made three requests for a hearing, but without avail.

WATCHING FISHER

The situation at Rossiter has attracted attention not only because of the injunction but also because of Gov. Fisher's connection with the corporation. Whether or not he has divested himself of his stock holdings has not been ascertained; but at any rate the fact that he was vice president of the company is pointed to by the strikers as offering a possible explanation of his do nothing policy of "silent neutrality," as he calls it. It also explains why they hope the Senate investigating committee will put the Governor on the witness stand.

The United Mine Workers are also particularly interested in the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation and would like the Senate to give it some attention because it is controlled by the New York Central, one of the railroads that they charge with conspiracy to crush the miners' union, degrade wages and depress the price of coal.

CHURCH STORM CENTER

"The Church on the Hill," as the strikers call the church named in Judge Langham's injunction, is the storm center of the local situation. Every morning at 6 o'clock—that is, at about the time that the strikebreakers pass by on their way to work—and every afternoon at 3—or, when the strikebreakers return from the mines—the strikers gather at the church and sing hymns. Their favorite is called "I'm on the Winning side," and the chorus follows:

"On the winning side,
I'm on the winning side,
I'm on the winning side with Jesus;
Though hot may be the fray,
My soul can boldly say,
I'm on the winning side with Jesus."

Every morning at 5:30 and every afternoon at 2:30, Pastor Phillips climbs the hill and rings the church bell—three times at 15-minute intervals. And the strikers and their women flock to the service, to sing hymns and hear encouraging words from Mr. Phillips, who, in addition to being the minister, is vice president of Local Union No. 1736 of the United Mine Workers and is the first defendant named in Judge Langham's injunction. These services have been held daily for six months.

COMPROMISE WITH CHURCH

The coal company stationed deputy sheriffs in front of the church; it closed up an alley as a thoroughfare in approaching the building, it posted "No trespassing" signs, and adopted other measures to discourage the "worshippers." But to no avail. Recently a "modus vivendi" was arranged, by which, in return for the coal company's reopening the alley to traffic, Pastor Phillips agreed not to dismiss the congregation until after the strikebreakers had passed.

One morning when Pastor Phillips opened the church he found it filled with the fumes of tear gas. Miss Anna Hutchinson, a Rossiter poet, has written a ballad about the incident.

BOTH SIDES COMPLAIN

This reporter was fairly deluged with complaints from each side concerning the conduct of the other side.

Mrs. Mary Sloa, Mrs. Anna Beverion and Mrs. Jane Tancredi complained that as they were going to church a strikebreaker thumbed his nose at them.

Steve Koller complained that as he stopped at the church entrance to empty his pipe a deputy sheriff roughly bade him move on.

Mrs. Nick Holtz, Mrs. A. E. Harkelroad and Mrs. Frances Summers complained that as strikers' children were playing near the barracks they were "bawled out" by deputy sheriffs and threatened with jail if they did not stop making a noise.

Corp. J. J. Rehanek of the company's police force complained that Pastor Phillips had referred to the officers' shack in front of the church as a "dog house," and gave a number of instances in which the strikers had assailed the strikebreakers and the police with opprobrious epithets. He also told of several dynamite explosions which broke windows.

STRIKER BLACKJACKED

More serious is the case of Steve Nagy, a striker, who, after an altercation with a policeman, was dragged from his home and blackjacked. Officers J. B. White and Joseph W. Accetta are awaiting trial at Indiana on charges of assault and battery as a result of this affair.

Several of the strikers have been called upon to answer charges of contempt of court.

the senses, cocaine sharpens them.

A man with a sniff of cocaine at work in his system can hear better, see better, run faster and shoot more quickly than any other man of his equal abilities in the world.

He can talk more and talk faster and brag more than any other man of his own natural capacity, too.

Cocaine turns a cowardly sneak thief into a bold robber.

Cocaine makes a mild man over into a wild man, and it speeds up the whole human system till the ordinary world is nothing but a half-forgotten dream to a real cocaine addict.

He lives from dose to dose. He begins with one "sniff" and goes on and on till he often takes a dozen doses of "cocaine" in one night or one day—and when he does that he is gone.

Addict Pays—And Pays

His nose bridge begins to fall. His stomach muscles twitch. He cannot live for a half hour in any kind of comfort with the drug out of his system.

If he tries it, he feels as if beetles were crawling under his skin. His legs and arms twitch. He jumps up and sits down, twists in his chair, yawns, makes faces, rubs his poor, aching, throbbing flesh—gone, poor creature, utterly gone.

Give him one "sniff" of cocaine and watch him change.

The dull eyes brighten, the twitching mouth begins to smile, the tortured body relaxes, the pitiful broken wretch is gone, and there before you is a voluble, loud talking, loud laughing, boasting, bragging, self-confident creature, who will try anything, anywhere, anytime, just to show what a big fellow he really is.

He'll go out and hold up a bank. He'll murder a harmless shop keeper in his shop. He'll kill some helpless woman on the steps of her own house, within reach of a dozen people—until the cocaine has died out. When that happens, he is a poor, broken, useless wreck.

Youth Chief Victim

And that is cocaine—the "kid catcher"—for most cocaine subjects are little more than children. The modern gunman is not a man at all. He is a mere youth—17 to 20 or at the most 22—that's the gunman age today, and cocaine is the one drug that "gets" the boys and girls.

No natural boy, and no normal girl wants to take a hypodermic of morphine. That craving comes usually only to those hardened in the ways of the world.

The "snow birds" begin to be "snow birds" at parties, at dances, in cabarets. A pretty girl taken in a raid in New York the other day said she first "sniffed" cocaine when she was a bridesmaid at her best friend's wedding. She was 17 years old. She was tired with a lot of parties and the excitement of the wedding. One of the other bridesmaids gave her a sniff of white "happy dust."

She married a few weeks later—that was not quite two years ago. That 17-year-old girl's young husband is dead by his own hand and she is an outcast today, all because of that one "sniff" of "happy dust."

Tragedy Is Toll

Another girl in Cleveland, taken in a raid in the lowest kind of a dive, took her first sniff of cocaine when she was tired out nursing her mother through a long illness. A relative who came in to relieve her said, "You look fagged. Take a sniff of this." And from that hour that poor girl was gone.

She finally gave up home and friends and decency and reputation—all because of a little sniff of a harmless-looking powder.

Three years ago I met the niece of a United States Senator in the furnace room in the basement of a big Chicago apartment house. She and a girl from the glove counter at one of the big Chicago shops were sniffing "coke" with two waiters from a low South Side black and tan dive. The Senator's niece was 23 years old. She was handsome and she was a graduate of a famous eastern college for girls. She stood by the furnace in the furnace room holding a paper of "happy dust" in her hand. She put some of it on her thumb, sniffed it and began to laugh.

"That's the stuff," she said. "I wouldn't give that 'happy dust' up for all there is in the world."

She's dead now. Died at the county hospital, all her beauty gone, every trace of refinement gone, all hope, all pride, all decency gone.

"Happy dust!" What a name for one of the most frightful drugs on earth!

"Misery powder"—that's what they ought to call it.

LETTER GIVES JAWORSKI CLUE

County detectives were spurred to new activity in the six months' hunt for Paul Jaworski, jailbreaker wanted for payroll murders, by receipt today of a letter, the source and contents of which were kept secret.

"From a person apparently reliable," was the only comment of Chief George W. Murren concerning the letter. Detectives were at once assigned to investigate the tip contained in the missive as to Jaworski's whereabouts. Murren would not disclose whether the reported hiding place of the bandit was in this district or far away.

Jaworski and John Vasbinder, both convicted of first degree murder, broke jail here last August 7 after shooting two guards. Sam Jaworski, brother of Paul, is in jail charged with being the outside man in the daring escape.

ADMITS 30 ROBBERIES AND 50 AUTO THEFTS

William Doughitt, 20, Negro, of 433 Third avenue, Homestead, has confessed to 30 robberies and 50 auto thefts in this district, Homestead police say, following his arrest. Doughitt told Chief of Police Michael Maloney where he had disposed of much of the loot.

Acting on his information, police took into custody the keepers of five stores pending investigation, but no charges have been lodged against them.

KIN OF KAISER ASSAULTS HOTEL PAGE

BEATS BOY INTO DAZE, ARRESTED

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Alexander Subkoff, brother-in-law of the former German Emperor, was arrested early this morning at the Casanova Cafe. The youthful husband of Princess Victoria Schaumberg-Lippe was charged with having knocked a page boy senseless.

Subkoff was taken to the police station in a taxicab. He was released after his name and address had been recorded.

The page-boy said Subkoff desired to talk in private with another guest at the cafe in the alcove where the page-boy was stationed and ordered him to go away. The page-boy said he replied that he must remain on duty. Thereupon Subkoff is alleged to have knocked him down and kicked him.

The page was taken to a hospital, where examination revealed numerous outward marks of brutal treatment. The page also complained of internal pains.

Subkoff's wife, when the couple arrived in Berlin several days ago, denied all charges that her 27-year-old husband had been leading a riotous life since their marriage.

The Casanova incident is likely to have a court sequel, as the page, who is 16, is reported to be planning summoning Subkoff for assault.

The married life of the 62-year-old Princess Victoria and her 27-year-old husband, to whom she was married last November 19, has been marked by several episodes to disturb its tranquillity.

Young Subkoff, a Russian refugee, once a sailor and professional dancer, was injured only three weeks after his marriage in a motorcycle accident. He fell from the machine while trying to negotiate a curve and was in a hospital for several days.

Last month he went to a hydropathic institute at Ahrweiler for cold water treatment after a series of escapades and erratic adventures in Bonn.

The former kaiser was strongly opposed to the marriage of his sister to the young Russian, but was unable to prevent the wedding, which was boycotted by all of the former German ruling houses.

'MYSTERY' HOP STIRS RUMOR

By International News Service.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—Reports concerning organization of a new Chicago-New York airway via Detroit, to be headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, were circulated today with the "mystery visit" to Detroit of Lindbergh.

Flying with as much secrecy as possible, Lindbergh with four St. Louis capitalists arrived last night at Selfridge Field, where the party went into seclusion in Maj. Lanphier's quarters.

"My mission here is a purely private one and I do not wish to be interviewed," Lindbergh told a reporter over the phone.

Later Maj. Lanphier was asked if he and Lindbergh planned to organize the new airway as reported.

"I do not wish to say anything," Lanphier replied. "I will not deny or affirm the report."

Recent public remarks of Maj. Lanphier, however, lend color to reports concerning the deal.

Newspaper dispatches from Buffalo Tuesday quoted Lanphier's announcement of plans for a new Chicago-New York air line via Detroit, Buffalo and Ithaca, N. Y.

Lanphier was quoted as saying the present Bellefontaine-Cleveland route is not as safe as the proposed new route, which, though longer, would have 70 per cent better weather.

Why We Behave Like Human Beings

by George A. Dorsey, Ph.D., LL.D.

Controlling Evolution, What Shall We Go in For?

Bearing of the Notorious Jukeses on the Problem Of Eugenics

Author Dorsey told us yesterday, in The Sun-Telegraph, that traits are man's greatest weapon and most important tool in progressing. Man got ahead because he could grasp an idea. By using his brain he has speeded up life and produced new instrumentalities of comfort and convenience.

We May Be Breeding Dumb-Bell Type

CHAPTER XII.

CAN we control our own evolution? Do we want to? To what end? In which direction? Presumably we could; and this is as far as eugenics has any standing in a court of science. All the rest of eugenics is politics—based on assumptions open to opposite views or on race prejudice pure and simple.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

Man could probably breed a race of human beings with the following "traits": Bald, fat, long chest, short fingered and all fingers thumbs and webbed, near-sighted, deaf and dumb, feeble-minded, curly-haired, cataract, albino, long-lived, and prolific, with a tendency to twins; at any rate, these are a few of the many so-called Mendelian traits capable of transmission. There are said to be at least 34 different hereditary eye defects alone, eight of which can produce blindness.

With nothing more to work with than normal variation in wild rock pigeons, man has bred over 20 races of pigeons. What could he not do with the human race if . . . The "if" introduces politics. And to "breed" a race of humans involves a decision as to what is desirable; a thousand-year-long dynasty of cast-iron despots with such power over subjects as Herod never hoped for or breeder of slaves dared exercise.

What the Aim?

What are we to breed at? What is the new race to go in for? Stature, tow hair, blue eyes, eight fingers, toothless, one toe, fecundity, mental precocity? The list of heritable traits is indefinite. "Marry dissimilars" is probably good eugenic advice if we are not bent on handing down our own personal traits—but most people are satisfied with their traits. At any rate, the sex impulse itself generally chooses its mate, and that impulse is not primarily concerned in offspring.

Take stature. If height is the criterion for desirable citizens, early-and-often marriage should be encouraged in Iowa, Kentucky and Missouri; made late and rare in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, and prohibited in Rhode Island. Meanwhile, close Ellis Island to all but native Patagonians.

What shall we do with the Attic Greeks? Raise their "quota," or exclude them because they do not look like the Harvard graduate who fathers an average of only three-fourths of a son and the Vassar graduate who mothers one-half of a daughter?

What of Theory?

If there is anything in the "continuity of the germ-plasm" theory, there should be some good germs left in a country which in 150 years produced such statesmen as Miltiades, Themistocles, Aristides and Pericles; such poets as Aeschylus, Euripides and Sophocles; such scientists as Socrates, Plato and Aristotle; such artists as Phidias and Praxiteles; such historians as Thucydides and Xenophon; such orators as Aeschines, Demosthenes and Lysias. The whole earth, in no centuries before or since, declared Galton, produced such a galaxy of illustrious men.

Some of that germ-plasm may be blacking boots today on a Staten Island ferry or running a short-order restaurant in El Reno. Who knows? One thing is certain: if it is, it is more interested in a short shine or a long order than it is in eugenics.

Consider the Jukeses

Could anyone, even Francis Galton himself, from the hill behind Athens in the year 600 B. C., have predicted that within a hundred years the little Rhode Island-sized state of Attica would begin to bud genius so fast and so big that the world has not stopped wondering about it yet?

Could Galton have predicted Lincoln? Could Ellis Island? Can Ellis Island spot the Jukes from the Altmans, or have the faintest idea when it holds up a Steinmetz—or ah Edward Bok?

The Jukes case is notorious—and illuminating, and was thoroughly investigated by Davenport. The case began about 150 years ago with a lazy, mentally defective "Max," who settled not far from New York City. His two sons married into a family of six sisters, all bad. One of them was known as "Margaret, the mother of criminals."

Of the 2,094 progeny of the Jukes sisters, 1,258 were living in 1915; 65 were "good citizens;" 600 were feeble-minded and epileptic. "Criminal," "mentally defective," "drunkard," "pauper," recur in their records again and again; now and then, "murderer." In 75 years alone, Max's feeble-minded pauper progeny cost New York state a million and a quarter of dollars.

Looks like a plain case—segregation or a surgeon. And yet a Jukes' descendant may be a governor and several of them may be in Congress. Some say they are. Conceivably, a Jukes might become a second Pasteur—and save more lives than were lost in the World War. This is certain: the state or nation which permits marriage between mental defectives and deaf mutes will have to provide for deaf mutes and feeble-minded. We may improve the breed of figs and eradicate thistles, but never will we gather figs from thistles or good figs from poor fig stock.

Dumb-Bell Type Looms

What carries eugenics into politics is that the Jukeses are neither figs nor thistles, and we do not yet know just how feeble a mind has to be before it has to be locked up to protect those who have minds and refuse to use them.

Many Jukes have too much brain to be segregated, not enough to carry a rifle to the front. Selection. That kind of selection is a modern specialty. The sound-minded, able-bodied get shot; the priests and scholars will not marry, and the ambitious women and the selfish men transmit their names but not their germs.

Is civilization now breeding a "pure" dumb-bell type—no teeth, no lower jaw? Cigarets may save the lower lip, and chewing gum may save enough of the lower jaw to support a chewing gum. But a full and sound set of teeth these days is about as primitive as is a perforated olecranon fossa of the humerus.

Evolution produced a human brain, our only remarkable inheritance. Nothing else counts. Body is simply brain's servant. Treat the body right, of course; no brain can function well without good service. But why worry more about the looks, color and clothes of the servant than the service it performs?

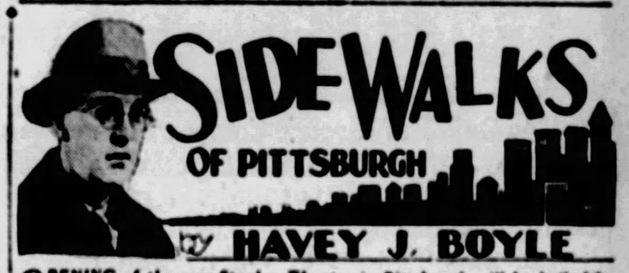
FREDERICK S. BENNETT

Succeeding E. W. Davis, who died within a week of his installation, Frederick S. Bennett has been elected treasurer of the Veteran Employes' Association of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. Bennett is one of the 55 Westinghouse employes recently awarded emblems marking the completion of 40 years of service.



OPENING of the new Stanley Theater in Pittsburgh will be hailed by Pittsburghers as another step in the right direction. It means competition, which means, in turn, greater enterprise.

The Stanley concern invaded the Pittsburgh field with the purchase of the Rowland & Clark interests and then came another deal which involved the theatrical interests of one of Pittsburgh's amusement pioneers, Harry Davis.

There is also another Pittsburgh connection in the Stanley interests for one of the biggest men in its concern, James McGuirk, once lived on the South Side. He moved to Philadelphia, where he became interested in the movies and rose to a high place in the industry.

PITTSBURGH keeps moving ahead in the amusement and entertainment field. Some years ago criticism of the city was based on the assumption that Pittsburgh's great industries were so significant and ponderous that so much attention was paid to work that the necessary partner for an ideal combination—play—was neglected.

THE gradual spread of the amusement field, coupled with such enterprises as public parks, additional free golf links for Pittsburghers, and other civic improvements being made with an eye to helping Pittsburgh play just a little more—the Town Hall project, for instance—all will help to make Pittsburgh more attractive. In this way new people will be attracted to the growing population, which will help stimulate our trade and industries.

SIDEWALKS, in its humble way, joins in the congratulations to the city and to W. M. Jacoby and to Mayor Kline in the recent appointment of Mr. Jacoby as chairman of the Zoning Commission. In his official capacity he never compromises between evil and good. It seems here he has a rare conception of right and sticks to it. His one fault is that sometimes he bids a no trump, even when he doesn't have the suit bid of the opposition stopped.

LULU BELLE, portrayed tellingly by Lenore Ulric, is on Pittsburgh's sidewalks this week. The witnessing of this story of a colored wench whose motto seemed to be lust at first sight, prompts a few sophomoric observations of the drama.

It is a play written under an old conception that good and bad are not mixed in the human. There are authors who like their heroes straight and their villains untouched with any good impulses. This, it seems here, is unreasonable. We like best those dramatists and story tellers who show a splotch or so on a hero and who likewise find a silver beam in the dark cloud surrounding the villain of the piece.

In Lulu Belle, search as we tried, there was not a redeeming quality. If the playwright is to hold the mirror up to nature, surely he would find even in such a creature as Lulu Belle some strain of the humanities.

WHAT the colored press has to say of this portrayal of the dregs of colored life, we don't know, but that the colored people have not made a loud outcry seems strange here. Any other race pictured with so few good qualities as to be found in Lulu Belle and her companions in sin certainly would emit a loud howl.

SOME who see the play might ask for censorship, but we are on the side of those who don't like censors. While the play is quite sordid and in places suggestive, we can't say that we left the theater much worse than when we entered it. Children under 30, however, should not be admitted.

BOBO BAXTER—In This Case, Two's a Crowd . . . . . By Rube Goldberg

FREE GIRL IN AX KILLING

WEEPS WITH JOY AT VERDICT

By International News Service

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Feb. 23.—Youthful Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin, 19-year-old Reidsville beauty contest winner, sobbed with happiness today when she discussed her acquittal of a charge of slaying her aged father and concealing his body in the basement of their home for more than a year.

The young bride of Reidsville's fire chief, weary after six months' confinement in the county jail at Wentworth, and the ordeal of her gruelling trial, was back among friends today in her home town.

"I knew the jury would believe my story, and I never once thought there would be a miscarriage of justice," the girl said. "But sometimes there was an awful, unexplainable fear of the electric chair. Just suppose—"

Mrs. Gatlin was the recipient of literally hundreds of missives of congratulations this morning.

The trial lasted 10 days. The girl's chief accuser was the Rev. Thomas (Thunderbolt) Pardue, Reidsville evangelist, who testified she penitently confessed the crime to him. His story to authorities last summer resulted in Mrs. Gatlin's arrest.

The girl wife defendant, picturing herself a martyr to mother love, declared that she went to the minister and made a "hypothetical" confession to learn if her mother's soul could be saved. Her mother, she said, committed the crime, and failed to confess before her death.

Suffers Running Sore 10 Years

Old-Time Remedy Starts Healing in Five Days.

Every person suffering from old sores and ulcers should know about the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment. Thousands have used it with joyful success after treatments and other remedies have failed.

"I am not much of a writer, but will give you a good ad for Peterson's Ointment if you care to publish it. I am a woman twenty-four years of age, and have had a running sore just above my ankle for over 10 years. I tried doctors and almost every kind of a salve, but failed to heal it. A year ago I got a box of your Peterson's Ointment and in five days' time I could tell that it was healing. It took only one 35-cent box and two sixty-cent boxes in all. So I advise every man, woman or child to use Peterson's Ointment, for it is worth the price and is good to keep on hand."—Mrs. Fay Korenchuk, Chicago, Ill.

That's the kind of a healing ointment Peterson's is and one 35-cent box from your druggist will prove it.

When Congress Was Cold to Independence

CONSIDERING that the Declaration of Independence was adopted in July, 1776, it is curious to recall that in February of that year the Continental Congress coldly received a proposal of political separation from England.

Lily Goes After Staley's Gifts and Finds They Are at Jetterson's

SHE remembered it late in the morning, when she was making the bed in her room, and she did not get dressed to go down to the Derbyshire street flat until after lunch.

With her heart beating wildly, she ran up the steps. . . . Pat might be there! She might see him.

She tapped lightly on the door and waited for it to be opened.

CHAPTER LIX.

LILY knocked again and waited. She opened her vanity bag and glanced quickly at herself in the mirror set in its top. . . . Yes, she was all right. Flushed and starry-eyed, and looking her very best, in case Pat did open the door to her.

She was through with him forever and ever, of course. She was divorcing him. . . . But even so, she wanted him to see how much he was losing when he lost her.

But he did not open the door, and neither did anybody else. She knocked again, and then she rattled the door knob. But still the door stayed closed.

"Well, of all things!" she said to herself. "To send for me to come down here to get my things, and then not to be here to open the door when I arrive!"

She gave it a vicious little kick with her foot before she started down the flight of steps with their soiled, gaudy carpet. When she reached the landing a door at the foot of them opened and a small, dark-haired woman who had been her neighbor for six months, stepped out into the hall.

Lily did not know her. She never had wanted to know her. She had always held herself above all the women who lived in the apartment building. "They're all right, but they're common and ordinary," she had said grandly to Pat, when he asked why she didn't make friends with them.

"How do you do, Mrs. France?" the neighbor asked now, in the very nicest way imaginable. "I didn't see you yesterday when you moved out. . . . I was down town. But I'd like to say goodbye to you now and tell you how sorry I am that we never got acquainted while you and your husband were living here."

She held out her hand and Lily found herself shaking it warmly. . . . What kind, twinkling dark eyes this woman had, and how friendly her smile was! And her voice was just as low and well-bred as Sue Cain's voice.

"I made a mistake about her, at any rate," Lily thought, when she left her and started down the street. "There's nothing common and ordinary about her. She'd probably have made a nice friend for me in all the lonely, dreary months I spent here."

She wished now that she had made a friend of the little, dark-haired woman, who probably had a husband as friendly and twinkling as she was. . . . But then, so far as that went, she wished that she had done a good many things that she had not done.

She wished that she had not "cheated" by seeing Staley while she was still living with Pat. She wished she had not left that liquor flask and cigaret case in the flat where his mother had found them. She wished she had not lost her temper and shaken Elizabeth Ertz that night at the Jettersons' house.

"I've wrangled everything so far," she decided. "But from now on I'll be very sure of what I do before I do it."

Then she realized that Staley's lawyer, Mr. Manton, had arranged practically everything for her for a long time to come. He had filed her divorce papers, naming The Ertz as correspondent, and he was going to get her divorce from Pat very quietly—so that there would be no scandal when the time came for her to marry Staley, himself.

"However, I've got to get the flask and the cigaret case," she knew. "It wouldn't sound so well in court for Pat to tell how I took gifts like those from a man. And especially from Staley."

Yes, she must get the flask and the case that very afternoon. She must get them and give them back to Staley, so that it would be just as if he never had given them to her.

Mrs. France was alone in her kitchen, making ginger-bread, when Lily knocked on the back door. She was singing, too, but when she looked up and saw who was standing out in the sunshine, she stopped abruptly.

Her lips were drawn into a thin, tight line when she opened the door, and she did not look as if she were capable of singing anything.

"I got your letter," said Lily, "but when I got to the flat there wasn't anyone there, and the woman downstairs tells me that Pat moved out yesterday."

Mrs. France nodded. "He did, and I wrote you in plenty of time to get that silverware that that man gave you," she answered. "But you didn't show up yesterday, so I just stuck it into one of Pat's suitcases."

"I'd like the things," Lily said. "Where are his suitcases? Upstairs? I'll run up and get the stuff out of them." It came over her that she would like to go to see the little room that had been all the home she and Pat had had last May and part of June.

But Mrs. France shook her head. "No, he's asleep up there, and I don't want him disturbed. He's going to work late tonight—and besides, the three suitcases that were filled with household things that you and he bought aren't here. They're over at the Jettersons. I didn't have any place here to store a lot of things. The clothes closets in this house aren't any bigger than the law allows, and there never is any piece to put anything!"

She shook her head, and then said: "You'd better go over to the Jettersons' for that silver if you want it."

Lily hated the very thought of going to the Jettersons' for anything. And nothing but the knowledge that Staley's whisky flask and cigaret case were there would have taken her there that afternoon. . . . She knew she simply must get those gifts of Staley's before Elizabeth Ertz got them and used them against her.

"No court would give me a divorce from Pat if it knew Staley had made me gifts like that," Lily told herself. She did not know much about law, but she knew enough to realize that.

And wouldn't The Ertz be tickled to find the two expensive silver articles with Staley's initials on them, and threaten to tell the court about them if she so much as mentioned her name in connection with Pat's name, as Lily was intending to do?

"I've got to get those things, that's all," Lily made up her mind, firmly, as she pushed open the gate in front of Sadye's neat, pretty house.

She knocked on the door, but no one answered her knocks. "Jiminy, this is my day for finding everybody out," she was complaining, when Roy Jetterson came around the side of the house from the back yard.

Roy was in his shirt sleeves, and his face was flushed and there was a streak of automobile oil on it. He scowled when he saw Lily, but she smiled back at him radiantly. . . . She was glad that Sadye was not at home, and that she had only him to deal with. It was so easy to "work" men—to get from them whatever you happened to want. It was a "pipe," as Pat would have said.

"Roy," she said, following him around to the back porch where he was at work at a long table, "Roy, are there some suitcases of Pat's here—and if there are, may I look at them, please? There are some things of mine in them."

Roy began to fiddle with some bits of steel and wire that lay before him on the table. "How do I know there are things of yours in those cases?" he wanted to know. "Mrs. France turned them over to me to keep for Pat—until Pat wants them again."

Lily pulled Mrs. France's letter from her handbag. "Well, read this, then," she said wearily. "In it she tells me about a silver flask and cigaret case of mine that she found. And they're in that case—in one of them, I mean. I just saw her and she sent me here."

But Roy just shook his head. "I don't want to read your letter," he said. "But I'll look through the cases and if there are any silver things like yours in them, I'll send them to you."

Lily put the letter back into her bag. "Let's look for them now," she pleaded. She wanted to get them before anyone saw those tell-tale initials on them—those initials "E. D." She just had to have them!

"There are a lot of things of mine along with this silver," she explained. "Clothes and a pillow and—come on, Roy, let's go and hunt them up."

She laid her hand on his flannel sleeve coaxingly.

CHAPTER LX.

ROY paid no more attention to Lily's bare hand on his sleeve than he would have paid to a snowflake there in the dead of winter.

He did not even glance at her, but went on twisting a piece of wire that he held in his blunt, grease-stained fingers. Finally he shook his head.

"I told you I'd send you the things," he repeated, stubbornly, "and I will. As soon as Sadye gets back I'll have her look them up, and I'll send them to you."

Lily groaned to herself. . . . That was the very thing that she did not want to have happen! If Sadye looked through the bags she would recognize Staley Drummond's initials on the flask and the cigaret case the instant she laid those sharp little bright eyes of hers on them.

"And then she'll probably run straight to Pat or The Ertz with the story," thought Lily, in despair. "And if The Erts's lawyer ever finds out that Staley gave me things like liquor flasks—good night!"

She simply had to get those things! And not only did she have to get them in order to protect herself from The Ertz, she told herself, but she had to get them right away. By the time Sadye Jetterson came home it would be too late. Sadye must never see them—never, never know about them.

She patted the flannel sleeve of Roy's shirt again. "Look her, Roy," she said, pleadingly, "we've always been awfully good friends.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

Brownatone does it. Enough in one $1.50 bottle for 2 new hair growths. Only one per application. Restores gray hair to original color and beauty. Guaranteed harmless, acts quickly, defies detection, won't rub off. Just brush in; no waiting, no disappointment. Blonde to black, all shades. At drug and toilet counters. Money back guarantee. Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

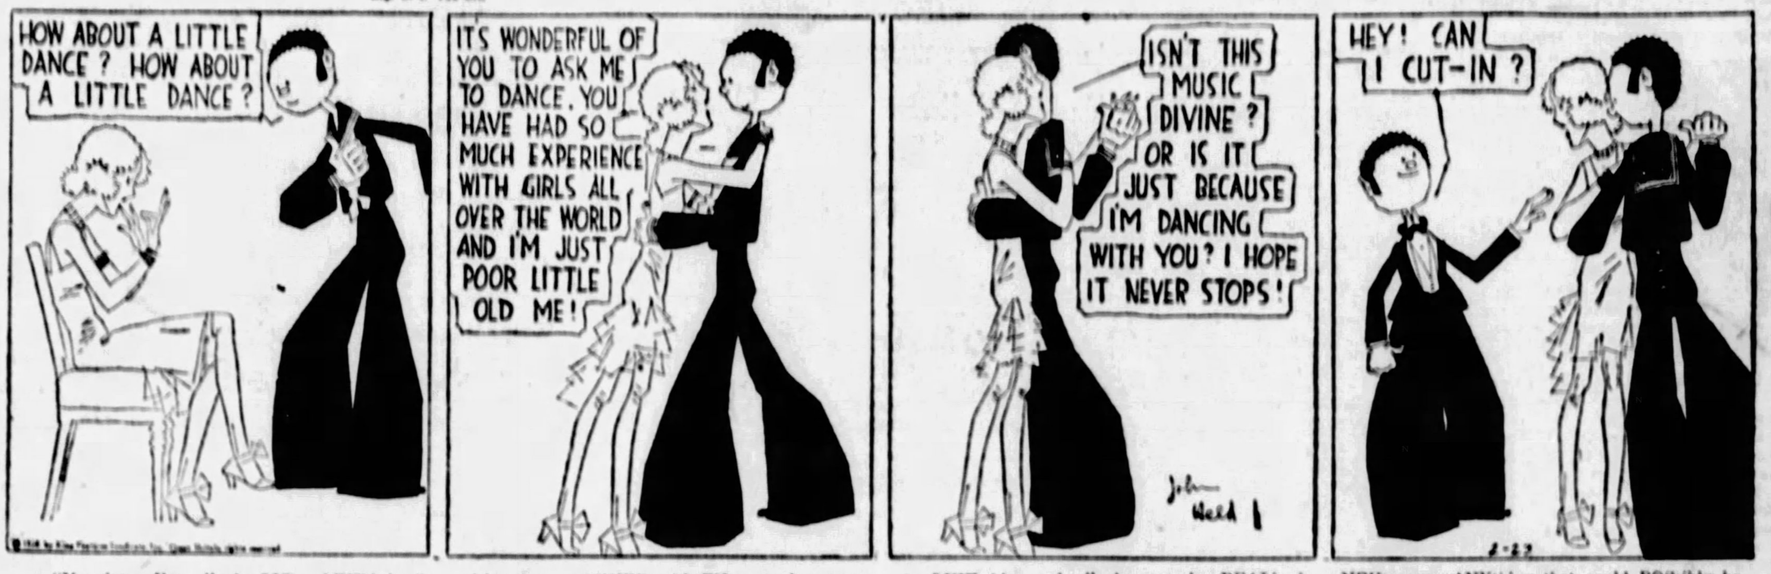
Story by Lloyd Mayer — By John Held, Jr.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



"My dear, I'm all-of-a-JOT-and-TITtle! I mean I could ACtually LEAP and CURvet with eLAtion at this point because this BROTHer of ARab's was TERribly SWEET to me the other night at the COUNtry Club DANCE, my dear, because he HONestly gave me the most treMENdous RUSH all EVEning and all these OTHer girls were conSUMED with ENvy, no less—can you BEAR it, my dear? I mean it was SIMply diVINE because he kept SAYing all these TERribly nice things to me while we staggered VAGUELy ROUND hither and YON, my dear, SKIPping and HOPping like NOTHing HUman. I mean he said it was WONderful that I seemed to LIKE him and all, because he REALized there had been HEAPS of men in my life and he was just NObody, and he was TERribly GRATEful to me for being so awfully SWEET to him and all—can you BEAR it, my dear? I mean just THINK how unlike ARab he is to say things like THAT, my dear, because I mean ARab NEVer says ANYthing that could POSsibly be construed as MODest, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, I was TOO impressed because he said he hoped we could dance ON and ON for EVer because it was diVINE dancing with ME, my dear, and just at this POINT of COURSE that perVERted PIPsqueak ARab had to cut IN—can you BEAR it, my dear?"

Dicky Notices Madge's Necklace and Makes a Mean Reference to Her Choice

IT TOOK all the poise I possessed to compel my voice to a calm, nonchalant answer to Dicky's query as to the jade and silver necklace, a former gift of his, which I was wearing.

"Yes, it is," I said. "Doesn't it go well with this gown, as if the two were made for each other? In fact, it is the only possible thing I could wear with it."

Surprisingly, Dicky exploded into one of his rageful little speeches.

"Oh, you don't need to rub it in!" he said. "I'm perfectly aware that if you could have managed it any other way, you wouldn't let any gift of mine touch you."

For an instant I struggled with the desire to tell him of the surprising emotion which the sight of the baubls had given me. Then the recollection of his enthusiasm over the news of Miss Lincoln's forthcoming attendance at our dinner effectually stopped the words. In his desire to hear of her he had not even given me a conventional compliment upon my costume for the evening.

"Don't be ridiculous," I advised him loftily. "You ought to know by this time that a woman chooses her ornaments for their suitability, not for their sentimental significance. But ought you not to be dressing? I don't mean your dinner clothes. It's altogether too hot. I've already told Noel and Mr. Jackson that everybody would wear cool summer things."

Purposely I had given him the opportunity of supplementing my effort to ignore his angry little outburst and he seized his cue with alacrity.

"They'll probably erect a statue in your honor and call it, 'Man's best friend,' or something of that sort," he said. "But I'm afraid you'll run against a snag in one direction, though. What will old Phil do without his moonlights?"

He was trying to be airily mirthful, but he could not quite conceal the venom in his tone when he spoke of Philip Veritzen. But I ignored it in my laughing answer.

"He'll either 'do' without them, or suffer alone. I'm not going to inflict inquisition tortures upon the rest of you, and if you, as the host, wear comfortable things your younger guests need not concern themselves with an old man's foolish punctiliousness."

The adjective "old" had slipped out inadvertently. I had not meant thus to refer to my employer. But it was just the thing needed to restore my husband to good humor. He turned from the door and shot a keen appraising look at me.

"Better not let him hear you call him 'old,'" he said. "You'll be hanging at the office yard-arm if you do."

He opened the door, almost collided with Mary, a vision in rose-flowered chiffon as she checked a headlong rush in front of him.

"What are you trying to do, youngster?" he asked. "Do you imagine you're a carom shot in billiards?"

Mark wrinkled her nose saucily at him, but vouchsafed him no other answer as she dived under his arm and came straight to me.

"Oh, Auntie Madge!" she exclaimed worriedly. "Can you come down to the veranda right away?"

I drew her in and made sure that Dicky was out of earshot before I spoke.

"I suppose Noel is down there declaring that he ought not to come to the dinner," I said.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By SHIRLEY BLAKE

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Roaches kill them with FLIT

Are you fooling yourself three times a day?

THAT caffein beverage you take with your meals—it seems to "pick you up"—to make you feel better.

Don't be fooled! It's the warmth of the drink that brings an immediate sense of comfort. The caffein gets in its full effect hours later, when you want to relax and rest or sleep. Then this artificial stimulant lashes your nerves—drives sleep away—keeps your brain pounding when you long for rest.

Try this test!

Make this simple change in diet: Give up caffein—try Postum instead! Postum's friendly warmth and mellow flavor will give you the mealtime "pick up" you want. And it won't get on your nerves afterward! For Postum is made of roasted whole wheat and bran—not a trace of any stimulant in it. Postum can't affect sleep, can't cause nervousness or indigestion, as caffein beverages do.

The best way to test Postum is to make it your mealtime drink for thirty days. Then note the difference in your health! See how much better you sleep—how much better you feel! Get Postum at your grocer's—either Instant Postum, prepared instantly in the cup, or Postum Cereal, the kind you boil.

How the Teeth Are Cut Gives a Line on Health

A GOOD deal can be learned regarding the baby's growth and welfare by watching the teeth. The promptness of the cutting of the teeth is important.

DR. COPELAND

The process and time of getting teeth is referred to by the doctors as the process or period of dentition. The average child is quite regular and systematic as regards the time and order of getting the teeth.

Sometimes there may be no signs of a tooth until the baby has gone several months past the usual time. This experience is called "delayed dentition."

Rickets is the chief cause for delay in cutting the teeth. However, in many healthy infants no teeth appear before the tenth month. We occasionally see the first teeth at 13 months. This is true of children who seem perfectly healthy in every other respect.

On the other hand, it is not always true that teeth appear late in children with rickets. As a rule, the cutting of the teeth and hardening of the bones of the head go on together. If one is early the other is likely to be early and vice versa. Marked irregularities in dentition are common in children.

If the infant is well nourished and thrives properly for the first six or eight months, the teeth are steadily cut after this time. This is apt to be the case, even though the child may have chronic indigestion later, or suffer from extreme undernourishment from some other cause than rickets. If the bad health dates from birth, however, dentition is almost always delayed. It seems rather remarkable that some children who are markedly emaciated as a result of chronic indigestion, may cut their teeth regularly.

There are certain foods which carry the mysterious vitamins. Without them the child will not prosper.

One of these vitamins is called "vitamin D." The lack of it is associated with rickets. Then the bones do not develop as they should and the teeth may not appear.

Cod-liver oil is richer in vitamin D than almost any other food. This is needed in delayed dentition.

Plenty of good milk, to which gelatin is added, will help. Sunlight is a great remedy, too. Exposure of the baby to the direct rays of the sun will help a lot.

Answers to Health Queries

W. R. Q.—Is it possible for children to inherit defects of the eyes, such as cross eyes?

A.—Yes, sometimes.

J. D. W. Q.—Can a boy of 2 recover from tuberculosis which has just recently reached the child's left lung?

A.—Yes, if the child has careful attention and care the trouble can be arrested. Plenty of direct sunshine and fresh air, careful, nourishing diet, proper rest and sleep, combined with healthful surroundings should all bring about improvement.

B. A. Q.—What causes palpitation of the heart?

A.—Consult your doctor for a complete examination.

Joe. Q.—Have been operated upon for appendicitis and since have had headaches accompanied by a peculiar taste in the mouth, distress after meals, producing a languid feeling—do not vomit but have an unusual amount of saliva at times and generally feel tired.

A.—Auto-intoxication and hyperacidity would cause most of the symptoms you describe. Watch your diet and be sure to keep the bowels active. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Lindy's Mother Part of 'We' in Fay King's View

By FAY KING

IF MOTHERS point to Lindy as an ideal for their sons, their sons also point to Lindy's mother as an ideal mother.

The faith she reposes in her son's ability; the modest way in which Mrs. Lindbergh accepts the honors showered upon her son and herself, all these are most admirable in the mother of the world's most acclaimed youth!

When we think of "WE" it is most often as meaning Lindy and his sturdy little plane, The Spirit of St. Louis.

But we might also think of that "WE" as this outstanding mother and son. Every mother and her child are "WE" throughout eternity. The combination of "WE"—a good mother and a good child—can meet all life's problems as nobly, if not as famously, as Lindy and his mother have.

Lindy and his mother are not different from countless other good mothers and good sons. It is what Lindy has done that places them higher in the sun.

Many young men had they just accomplished the outstanding feat Lindy did, would have been just as modest and manly as he has been.

And the mothers of these sons would have gone on just as Mrs. Lindbergh has, doing their work in the background of their son's success.

Many mothers of sons as successful in their spheres as Lindy is in his, are doing just that.

The mother who knows she can trust her son anywhere and knows that he will never discredit her faith in him, does not tie him to her apron strings or worry over him.

I have noticed that mothers who worry and fret over their sons or daughters for that matter—have good reason to worry!

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

DE-NATURED LOVE

A MAN'S favorite brand of love is brand new love.

The Younger Set appear to regard marriage as a sort of endurance test, in which the one who can prove that he or she suffers most, wins the prize.

Mix a pound of vanity with an ounce of passion and a handful of impertinence, and you have what the modern man calls "love."

Philander says, "A true philanthropist is one who always carries a folder of matches in his pocket for the use of his friends who got cigar-lighters for Christmas."

When a man actually does the proposing, these days, his words should be taken down by a stenographer and placed in the local museum along with the other rare and archaic curios.

Dr. Warthin, the Michigan scientist, would abolish all love and emotion from marriage, and reduce mating to a cold-blooded sex proposition—and it looks as though he would soon get his way!

It is quite a while before a girl realizes that a man's "Forever!" means merely, "Until I get tired;" and still longer before she learns that his "Never!" means "Not until the next time!"

* * *

If Companionate Marriage works out, a man will have a chance to "turn in the old wreck" and get a brand new model wife every few years. And won't the girls who have seen their best days just love THAT!

Why be Fat?

When so many people, all about you, know an easy, pleasant way to reduce.

In every circle you enter now, slenderness prevails. Excess fat is the exception. New health and vitality has come with this reduction. Ask anybody who has found the way, and he or she will urge you to adopt it.

This change has not been brought about by abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Research men discovered, some two decades ago, the cause of fat. It lies in a fault in nutrition which calls for an extra supply of some factors.

The help they suggested was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Now people have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everyone knows people who can tell them what this method does.

At one time people feared Marmola—the results were so amazing. Now every box contains the formula, also all scientific reasons for the good results. And fear has been abolished.

Users of Marmola take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. They gain at the same time new vitality and health. And they know exactly why.

Go try Marmola. Do not suffer any longer the blights of over-weight. And do not think that reduction means starvation. Try what people have for 20 years been using with such results. You owe that to all who love you.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have beautiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and luster, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store. A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Corrects all skin faults— leaves complexion soft, clear, lovely

MOST complexions would be attractive, skin specialists agree, if they were not so often marred by simple little flaws like blemishes, roughness, large pores, dry skin or oiliness. But now these common skin faults can be so easily corrected—by an antiseptic cream nurses have made famous.

Doctors first prescribed this healing cream for chapped hands, burns, eczema and other skin troubles. Then nurses discovered how soft and smooth Noxzema Cream left their hands. Soon they were trying it for their complexion and found that blemishes and roughness quickly vanished, large pores shrank, the skin became smooth—fine—lovely. Enthusiastically they told their friends about it. And now over a million women regularly use Noxzema to keep their skin healthy and beautiful.

Snow-white, greaseless, dainty as the finest toilet cream yet as powerfully healing as the best old-fashioned skin remedy—Noxzema can be used as a powder base or night cream. Under its soothing, healing medication the tiny faults that insidiously steal away your beauty are corrected—the real loveliness of your skin revealed. Try it.

WHAT looms as a battle for the junior championship begins tonight at Columbus Temple when the Red McMahon Club of the South Side engages the Lou Gordon Club in the first of a three-game series.

Both the McMahons and the Gordons have been setting a torrid pace in junior basketball circles hereabouts this winter and are regarded as the leading teams in their class.

The contest tonight precedes the battle between the Sumer Somermans and the J. J. Mieles, a regularly scheduled Pittsburgh and Ohio Valley League clash. The Somermans and Mieles have been rivals for two years and their contest tonight is expected to be productive of much action.

Both games have stirred up considerable interest among the followers of the contesting teams and indications are that a capacity crowd will turn out at Columbus Temple tonight.

HAVING broken their long losing streak by defeating the St. Michaels Sokols of Homestead last Friday night, the Goldensons of the South Side will attempt to make it two in a row tomorrow night when they entertain the crack Nehi Bottlers of Farrell at the South Side Market House.

The Nehi Bottlers are coming to Pittsburgh with a long string of victories scored over the leading clubs in the Shenango Valley and they are likely to extend Meyer Goldenson's charges to the limit tomorrow night.

Two preliminary games will precede the main attraction, Dairy Cottage meeting the J. N. Whites, while the Goldenson Vanities clash with a strong opponent.

DRIBBLES

The Y. M. H. A. passers will invade Johnstown tonight to meet the Y. M. H. A. team representing that city on the floor. The local passers defeated the Cambria Countians in a game played here earlier in the season.

Cumberland is dickering for a game with the Cleveland Rosenblums for March 4.

The McKeesport Junkers, picked to win the second half title of the P. & O. League, invade Jeannette tonight to meet the Felder Club.

The McKeesport Cyclers, unable to make professional basketball pay in the Tube City, have decided to play all remaining games away from home. The City contest failed to draw and was a big disappointment.

Next Monday night Manager Belmonte will take his Mieles Club to Jeannette to meet the Felders. Saturday night the Mieles clash with the Duquesne Lafayettes at Columbus Temple.

The Rauhs are making an effort to book the Cleveland Rosenblums for a game at Columbus Temple March 6.

The annual P. & L. E. Railroad tournament will be staged Saturday afternoon and evening on the Hamilton school floor. Teams from the Pittsburgh, Youghiogheny, Monongahela and Ohio divisions will represent the P. & L. E. in the New York Central Lines tournament to be held in Public Hall, Cleveland, March 9 and 10.

Community House is marking time until its appearance in the finals of the A. A. U. tournament. The North Siders will meet the winner of the Y. M. H. A.-Lancer contest, scheduled to take place next week.

LOCKE, CUTBILL LOSE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Attempting a comeback after six years of competitive lideness, Harold Cutbill, of the Boston A. A., the "flying parson," finished third in a field of four in the Olympic 880 meter run, feature event of the annual Masonic benefit meet at the One Hundred and Second Engineers' armory last night. The event was won by Pincus Sober, of the Holy Name Club, in 1:57 4-5.

Despite the fact that Cutbill at no time was in the lead, he showed remarkable form in his first start since the suspension placed on him in 1923 was lifted.

Bob McAllister, the "flying cop," captured the special sprint series with victories in the 80 and 90 yard events and a third place in the 100. McAllister suffered a slight injury to his left leg in the 70 yard dash and favored it in the last of the sprints. Second place went to Bob Weise, of the New York A. C., who won the 100 yard dash in 10 2-5 seconds after finishing second to McAllister in the first two sprints. Roland Locke, University of Nebraska star, was third in the 80 and 90 yard events and second in the 100.

BUSINESS MAY KEEP HARADA OUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Japan, in the forefront of international tennis for the past decade, with such notables as Ichiya Kumagae, Zenzo Shimizu and Takeichi Harada leading its teams, will be dependent to a great extent upon a new group of players in its forthcoming Davis Cup engagements.

Although Harada has been named captain of this year's cup team, which plays in the American zone, there is some doubt whether he will be available owing to the exigencies of business in Japan. In such an event the onus of the Japanese team's play in America would fall on the shoulders of Yoshiro Ohta, Teizo Toba, Timio Abe and possibly Thumio Tawara.

PLAYED LAST YEAR

Ohta, Tawara and Toba played with Harada in the Japanese cup team's matches here last year and acquitted themselves creditably. It is said that their technique has been improved and that they will present a more formidable threat in the approaching international clashes.

Abe, a student of Waseda University of Tokio, ranked among the leading players of Japan last year, being a member of one of its foremost doubles combinations. He is now en voyage to the United States.

All of these younger Nipponese give promise of developing into great stars as their predecessors, the illustrious Kumagae and the dashing Shimizu.

At any rate, the contingent from the land of the setting sun is coming to the United States this year with high hopes and certainly with an excellent chance for greater glory than in 1927, when Japan defeated Mexico and Canada only to be beaten by that conquering group from France.

The greatest approach of Japan to world supremacy in tennis was reached in 1921, when Shimizu and Kumagae threw aside all competitors in the preliminary ties and met one of America's greatest teams in the challenge round at Forest Hills.

William Tilden, William M. Johnston, Richard N. Williams and Watson M. Washburn, then at the heights of their careers, were the defenders of the cup in that meeting of tennis forces from opposite sides of the world.

RATED AMONG FIRST

Kumagae at that time had been among the first 10 ranking players in America for four years. He had carried the brunt of his team's battles in the preliminary rounds and seemed a bit jaded against the mighty Tilden and Johnston.

On the other hand, Shimizu played as if inspired and came within an ace of defeating "Big Bill." This match went to five sets and in the final singles contest against Johnston, the wiry Shimizu carried the issue through four sets before succumbing to the Californian's superior stroking. Williams and Washburn turned back the Japanese in four sets of the doubles match. Thus America made a clean sweep of the round, but it was one of the most thrilling of all Davis Cup tests.

Kumagae got into the first American 10 again that year and then faded from the picture of international tennis, leaving Shimizu to carry the banner for their homeland. In 1922, Shimizu made seventh position in the first 10. However, in 1923 and 1924, Japan was not represented in that select group. Harada appeared in seventh place in 1925 and advanced to third position in 1926 behind Tilden and Manuel Alonso, displacing the veteran Johnston. Harada was not ranked in 1927 because of his limited playing in the United States.

Patriotism May Patch Conger, Hahn Break

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Ray Conger and Lloyd Hahn, whose enmity has broken the small confines of the tracks on which they run, may be brought to a peaceful understanding for patriotic reasons.

Developments of the last two weeks have made it clear that in Hahn and Conger the United States has a pair of strong candidates for the 800-meter and 1500-meter championships at the Olympic games. Proper juggling of these two runners might possibly bring about a double middle-distance victory for the United States at Amsterdam.

With these facts in mind, officials are beginning to realize that if the two can be convinced they ought to harmonize and share their burden their chances of success will increase.

HOAK TO BOX MURRAY

A change has been made in the preliminary card for the Willie Harmon-Cuddy DeMarco show at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. Jack Bany of McKeesport will be unable to box Jackie Murray, Negro junior-welterweight of Center avenue, in the second bout of six rounds, and Jess Hoak of McKeesport has been signed to take his place.

The balance of the card stands as arranged, with Young Rudy and Harry Taylor boxing the eight-round semi-final and Johnny Riley opposing Danny Stewart in the opening bout.

A large-sized crowd of fans is turning out daily to see DeMarco go through his training paces with Tug Phillips, Young Rudy and others in the Motor Square gym. Cuddy goes on the floor at 7 p. m.

Jackie Fields of California boxes Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell in a 10-round non-champion match in Chicago tonight. Al Foreman and Don Davis meet in the semi-final.

The Middle States A. A. U. tourney gets under way at Gary, Ind., tonight with seven states represented. Four local boxers are competing.

Tony Canzoneri, the new featherweight champion, meets Pete Passafume in the main bout of a card of fourrounders for the benefit of Joe Bernstein, old-time boxer, in New York tonight. Others on the bill include Maxie Rosenbloom, Eddie (Kid) Wagner, Bruce Flowers, Andy Divodi, Rene DeVos, Corp. Izzy Schwartz and Pal Silvers.

Johnny Dunn, New Kensington bantamweight, left this morning for Scranton, where he meets Danny Dempsey in a 10-round bout in the Town Hall Monday night.

An amateur boxing show for the benefit of the families of the striking miners of Renton and Newfield will be held in the Moose Hall, Universal, tomorrow night.

JOHN M'GRAW NOT TO SIGN TY COBB

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Ty Cobb's future has Manager McGraw up in the air even though he says he doesn't intend to sign the Georgia Peach.

Out at the Giants' camp at Hot Springs, Ark., Manager McGraw is busily denying reports that the veteran Ty will appear in a New York uniform in the coming struggle.

"I have not even spoken to Cobb," said McGraw "And I certainly have not signed him."

However, the Giants' pilot is swamped by inquiries probably caused by reports that Cobb will work out with the McGrawmen at Augusta.

The first casualties to the New Yorkers involve Bill Walker, Denver southpaw, who strained a tendon in the right leg, and Lee Mangum, who has a bruised knee, the result of a mountain hike. The injuries are minor.

DARTMOUTH, PRINCETON AND PENN FIVES WIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—The standing of the clubs in the Eastern Intercollegiate basketball League remained unchanged today after a triple bill over the holiday.

Dartmouth, the pacemaker, handed Columbia a 26 to 20 drubbing.

Penn and Princeton continued in a deadlock for second place as the Quakers repulsed Cornell by 28 to 26 while the Tigers whipped Yale, 47 to 24.

Pennsylvania has withdrawn its protest against Dartmouth's victory in a league tilt at Philadelphia on February 17 in which it was alleged the official scorers omitted crediting Schaaf with a free try which would have made the count at the end of the regular playing time 30-all.

BIG TEN LEADERS TO CLASH TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Undisputed possession of first place in the Big Ten basketball race will be decided tonight when Purdue meets Wisconsin at Madison.

Both teams have won six out of seven games and are tied for first place. Each will have four more games to play after tonight's contest and the two will meet in a return contest at Lafayette Saturday night.

Minnesota provided the upset of the week's play at Minneapolis last night by turning back Chicago, 35 to 18. It was the Gophers' second win of the season. Indiana romped over Ohio State at Columbus, 52-17, in the only other game played.

Fifth-South May Play in Market House

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

THE City Senior League basketball season will come to an official close tomorrow with several contests which are unlikely to have any bearing on the outcome of the race, inasmuch as it is cut and dried right now.

Inasmuch as there have been several upsets this season of more than surpassing notice, effort is being made to play the Fifth-South game tomorrow night in the South Side Market House, instead of at South High. Only defeat by South tomorrow can keep Fifth Avenue from copping the Section 1 title.

Allegheny, Section 2 leader, also meets a so-called "easy" opponent on the Langley court; and, again, only an upset can ruin the works. South Hills meets Carrick and Oliver tackles Perry in other games.

BROOKLYN CENTRAL WINS Y. TRACK MEET

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Brooklyn Central, with 47 points, won the team championship in the National Y. M. C. A. track and field championship meet in Brooklyn last night. Cincinnati Central Y. M. C. A. was second with 26 points.

Donohue, Red Ace, Holdout

FT. WORTH, Tex., Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Pete Donohue, Cincinnati pitcher, will not report to the Reds' training camp at Orlando, Fla., with the other members of the staff February 26, he said today.

"They are trying to make me take a big cut in salary because the club had a bad season last year," he said. "I haven't accepted it because I honestly don't think it is fair. If the rest of the team had done its part I would have won 20 ball games just as I averaged the five previous seasons.

"Salary is the hook on which we are hung, but everyone knows or ought to know that I would welcome a change in scenery. I have never asked to be traded, but I would like to try my luck on some other team. I believe I will have a great season this year if on a team that hustles to win and make a few runs."

Donohue has trained here this winter.

CONTRACTOR FELT BAD FOR YEARS

Says Ten Herbs Put Him on His Feet, After Many Medicines Failed.

"I was in poor health the past three years," was the statement of Mr. C. J. Meleizen, 597 Hand Avenue, Lancaster, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating the popular medicine, Ten Herbs. "I was sleepy all the time, and had no energy or ambition," continued Mr. Meleizen, who is a contractor and builder, and has lived in Lancaster twenty-four years. "I became so constipated that even the strongest physics gave but little relief. I had a sour, acid stomach. My digestion was impaired, and nearly everything I ate seemed to lie in my stomach and ferment. At times, gas would fill me until I would be in distress.

"I tried various kinds of medicines, but nothing helped me until I used Ten Herbs. I cannot praise your medicine high enough, for it really put me on my feet. I can now eat the heaviest kind of meal without having a sour, acid stomach, or bloating. My bowels are regular, and instead of feeling sleepy all the time, I arise in the morning feeling full of new life. I am recommending Ten Herbs to all my friends, as I feel sure it will help others like it did me."

When you use this celebrated compound, Ten Herbs, and it begins to cleanse your system of the awful accumulations of poisons and waste matter; when it invigorates the disordered stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; when aches and pains in the back, biliousness, headaches, constipation, and other distress are relieved—then you understand why people almost everywhere look with such favor on this new herbal preparation. Ten Herbs has helped many local people, even after other medicines failed, as is shown by their statements published in the daily papers.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Contentment by the pipe-load

EVERY load of P. A. in your pipe is a load of sunshine in your smoke-system. Why do you suppose more Prince Albert is smoked than any other brand? I'll tell you. When you open a tidy red tin and set free that P. A. aroma, you're on your way.

When you taste that first, wonderful pull on your pipe, you've arrived. Cool as the keel of a river-boat. Refreshing as a breeze on the top deck. Mellow and mild and long-burning, with a body that puts satisfaction right over the plate every time.

Take the nearest path to pipe-joy. Go get yourself a tidy red tin of good old P. A. That's all there is to this business of finding the right combination to contentment. You'll say so after that first fragrant pipe-load of this delightful tobacco.

This tin contains TWO full ounces of top-notch smoke-joy.

Borah and Paddock In Stirring Finish

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

WHAT does it matter whether a pitcher is a left-hander or a right-hander, as long as he can win games?

And what difference does it make how many members of a staff are orthodox flingers or how many are southpaws, if each of them turns in a satisfactory percentage of victories?

A FIGHTING FINISH

Notice the drive and fighting expression of Paddock as he thunders toward the tape. He received the baton from the third man on his team later than Borah got his and made up almost seven yards on the latter in the short dash of 110 yards. The chunky Paddock still seems to retain all of his speed and will be a tough bird to beat out of an Olympic berth.

VICTOR BY STEP

Picture shows the finish of the 440-yard relay race which featured the Southern Pacific A. A. U., track and field championships at Los Angeles last Saturday. Charley Borah (left) and Charley Paddock, great sprint stars, ran anchor for their teams and the former just beat the latter to the tape, incidentally, lowering the world's record from 42 to 41 3-5 seconds. Borah represents the University of Southern California and Paddock the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

ALDRIDGE MAY BE HOLDOUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(INS.)—Pitcher Vic Aldridge, obtained by the New York Giants from the Pittsburgh Pirates in exchange for Burleigh Grimes, may be a holdout. He has not joined the other New York batterymen working out here, nor has he returned his contract, mailed to his home in Terre Haute, Ind., eight days ago.

Pitcher Jess Doyle, obtained from Toronto, also is missing. His home is in Belleville, Ill.

The Desperate Manager's Moan

Oh, gimme a guy who can capture a fly,
Without sprawling before he gets one,
Or a "Bam" who can clout without striking out
Six times or more, 'ere he hits one;
Or pitcher renown who can set the foe down,
Without filling the bases with men,
And can enter a game in the midst of a frame,
And stop the old rally right then.

Oh, gimme a bo who is not hog-foot slow,
And can run like the wind to first base,
Who can make any sack at the crack of the bat,
And not fall flat on his face;
Or gimme a man in the outfield who can
Be depended to throw his man out,
Then I'll be sitting nice in baseball's paradise,
With a pennant in my hand beyond a doubt!

DONIE BUSH BANS GOLF EXCEPT ON OFF DAYS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Feb. 23.—The "ball players" can't get here too soon. That is the feeling in the Paso Robles ball orchard today as the Pirate pitchers and catchers made ready to indulge in their third practice of the season.

Stiff and sore, the dozen veterans of the mound went about the task of approaching condition, while just as many rookies, who could not restrain their exuberance in the first two workouts, showed a little falling off of pep. By the end of the week the sharpshooters will be able to toss hooks and waste balls, although the veterans will be too wise to cut loose.

The "ball players" are due in Tuesday night, with Wednesday morning set as the appointed time for the first practice of the full squad. Captain Traynor will leave Pittsburgh tomorrow night with a little squad of regulars, and others will join up on the way across the country.

REGULARS DUE TUESDAY

Until Pie and his crew get here there will be little doing in a baseball way. Traynor, Glenn Wright, George Grantham, Sparky Adams, Joe Harris, the Waner brothers and other stars will set off the spark

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh and the vanguard of the Cleveland American League baseball team are here and have pitched camp for spring training.

A heavy rainfall greeted the players as they stepped from the train, but this caused no changes in the plans of Manager Peckinpaugh.

The first workout is slated to be held at Heineman Park today. Those who arrived were Secretary Walter H. McNichols, Coach Howard Shanks, Pitchers George Uhle, Joe Shaute, Walter Miller, Walter Brown, Harold Heidelbagh, a recruit, and Trainer Max Weisman.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS EDITOR

THIS appears to be about as good a time as any other to start an argument.

What sport, if any, is open to the charge of being unfair in that it does not permit of a defense against the offense of an opponent?

Think it over and see if the answer doesn't spell—

G-o-l-f.

YOU said it, brother! The argument is on.

But figure it out for yourself. What defense can a player throw up against a rival's game in golf? Is there any way in which he can block his shots or otherwise checkmate them?

In baseball, the fielders are supposed to kill off the hits of the team on the offensive. In football, there are all sorts of defensive possibilities whereby the progress of the attacking side is impeded. In tennis, the best shots of an opponent can be turned back. In boxing, blocking the other fellow's blows is considered essential, so long as the blocking is not done with the nose, etc., etc.

But in golf the only defense appears to be a superior offense. There's only one thing to do and that is to out-attack your opponent. Of course, there's such a thing as worrying him by outdriving him or approaching better or sinking long putts from time to time, and thus putting him on the defensive mentally, but physically it can't be done. The rules do not provide for defensive measures.

NOW, that may appear to be a peculiar argument to concoct, but isn't it the truth? The idea didn't come to me personally. It came from a sports fan who was telling me what sports he liked and what ones he didn't. When he said he never could see golf or the reason for the space the newspapers devote to it, I asked him why, and he said the sport lacked equity. Still at a loss to understand, I asked him to elucidate, and his reason was the topic of this discussion. He said he couldn't see anything sporting

Bucs Play Rangers Tonight

PRO HOCKEY LEAGUE

RESULT LAST NIGHT.

Ottawa..... 3—Chicago 2

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Pittsburgh Pirates arrived here this morning from Boston, where, on Tuesday, they lost to the Boston Bruins, and will meet the New York Rangers in an important first division contest on the Garden ice tonight.

The Pirates, who have clambered from last place in the standing to third with a sensational spurt, during which time they won seven out of 10 games, are hopeful of getting back into their winning stride tonight, which was interrupted by the Bruins Tuesday.

DEMPSEY IS REFEREE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 23.—(INS.)—A new swimming record of 1 minute 39 4-5 seconds for the 150-yard back-stroke event was on the books today. It was made by George Kojac of New York in the Yale boys' club meet here.

MANAGERS VOTE TO QUIT GOLF

By JULIUS LEVIN.

REPORTS that the Allegheny County League, rated as the leading professional basketball circuit in Western Pennsylvania, was to disband, first announced by The Sun-Telegraph last week, became a reality at Duquesne last night, when the club managers at a special meeting decided to abandon the loop.

Displeased with the manner in which the league affairs were being conducted, Ed Minnick, manager and coach of the Duquesne Lafayettes, champions of the league, took matters into his own hands in order to force a show-down by summoning the managers together last night.

In view of the fact that the Lafayettes carried off the honors in the first and second runs of play without difficulty, the managers realized it was useless to carry the season any further and voted unanimously to abandon the remaining games.

As a result of this decision the teams enrolled in the Allegheny County League will complete their basketball campaigns by playing independent schedules.

The Allegheny County League thus is disbanded after a little less than two years of existence. Torn by internal strife and petty disputes, the disintegration of the local professional circuit comes as no surprise to those who have followed the league for any length of time.

At last night's meeting were the surviving managers of the loop, representing Butler, Duquesne Lafayettes, Broadway Club and Enoch Rauh Club.

Traynor Arrives Here To Join Main Squad

SOMEWHAT overweight, but otherwise in excellent physical condition as a result of a winter of hunting in the woods of Wisconsin with his newly-acquired teammate, Pitcher Burleigh Grimes, Harold (Pie) Traynor, captain and star third baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, arrived here this morning eagerly awaiting the departure of the main squad of Corsairs for the Paso Robles training camp tomorrow night.

Pie Traynor.

Traynor arrived at Pirate headquarters this morning weighing 189 pounds, 19 over the usual mark. The hustling Pirate field leader, however, believes he will not encounter much difficulty in getting down to his normal poundage once the training camp is reached. Traynor will be a party of the main squad of Pirates leaving the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie station tomorrow night at 8:20 o'clock.

Earl (Sparky) Adams, acquired by the Pirates, along with Outfielder Pete Scott in a trade which sent Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler to the Cubs, is expected to reach Pittsburgh some time this afternoon and will leave with the delegation departing from the P. & L. E. depot tomorrow night. The midget infielder likewise is expected to report to Manager Donie Bush on the coast in excellent physical condition after a winter of hunting in the woods.

Walker In Hard Bout

By Universal Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—California's revival in pugilistics seems assured, judging from the way in which some 15,000 persons accepted Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion, and Jack Willis, the Lone Star State cowboy yesterday who who met in a 10-round fight at the State Armory, the game is ace for a comeback.

The champion was awarded Referee Irwin's decision after 10 bristling rounds, in which the despised challenger, a 1 to 3 shot, forced Walker by taking the third, sixth and seventh rounds.

It marked the appearance of the first titleholder boxing a non-title fight in this state, a thing much against the commission's rules. Special permission was granted to Harry Morrison, "father of the California boxing law," who heads the Lincoln Athletic Club and promoted the show.

THE spectacle of baseball players on the stage generally gets the "thumbs down" gesture from the average citizen, but there was something about these two corn-fed kids that found a response in all who have read a tale by Horatio Alger. After helping the Pirates to a flag they took part in the banner event of the sport, and then hopped onto the stage with all the confidence of one of Chic Sale's characters. And each is said to have made at least $10,000 since the season closed. No

$40,000 CONTRACT GIVEN RAJAH

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Rogers Hornsby, second baseman obtained by the Boston Braves in a trade which sent Outfielder Jimmy Welsh and Catcher Francis Hogan to the Giants, has signed a contract with the Beaneaters calling for the same amount received from the Giants last season, or in cold figures $40,000. The noted slugger consented to lead the Braves in the field, accepting the offer to captain the team.

Thus it appears that Hornsby has been accepted whole-heartedly into the Boston ranks and has entered just as whole-heartedly upon his new duties.

It was with a certain natural diffidence that Rogers approached the business of reaching a working agreement with his Boston boss. A ball player who first has been traded after leading his club to its first pennant and world's championship and then immediately is traded to a tail-ender after a highly successful season on the playing field, naturally feels a certain restraint and

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

1922, when they won the American League pennant without having a left-handed chucker on their payroll, and this spring Donie Bush and John McGraw are showing how little consideration they give the query by carrying four fork-handers on the training trip and expressing hope that all will make good.

George Peery

BUSH'S southpaws are Fred Fussell, George Peery, Lester Bartholomew and Regis Leheny. McGraw's portsiders are Frank Henry, Jim Faulkner, Arthur Johnson and Bill Walker.

"Why carry so many left-handers when you cannot possibly have room for them?" the Pirate manager was asked by a Pittsburgh fan before leaving for California last Thursday.

"I'll always have room for as many winning pitchers as I can find, regardless of which side they threw from," replied Donie.

THAT McGraw shares the views of the Pittsburgh pilot was shown when the New York boss was asked if he would retain his four southpaws, provided they displayed the right grade of goods.

John McGraw.

"Certainly I'll carry all four if they can deliver for me," he said. "I had Rube Benton, Art Nehf, Slim Sallee and Ferd Schupp at one time. They were pretty good, weren't they? I would carry a staff made up entirely of left-handers if they could win for me."

INCIDENTALLY, McGraw is not claiming that he worsted Pittsburgh in the Grimes-Aldridge trade. He says it was a "50-50 proposition."

The dope he gives to back up that assertion is rather lame, however. He is quoting as pointing out that Grimes won many of his games last year "because of great hitting behind him" and as saying that grimes' earned-run average was "not so low."

Evidently, McGraw found it convenient to make no mention of Aldridge's figures. He was very careful to sidestep comparisons.

AS A matter of fact, Grimes' record was far better than that of Aldridge.

Pitching 260 innings last year, Burleigh allowed an average of 3.53 earned runs per nine innings. Aldridge was nicked for an average of 4.26 runs per nine innings, almost a run per game more than Grimes, and ranked twenty-fourth in the hurling table.

In the entire league there were only four pitchers working in 10 or more complete games who finished lower than Aldridge in effectiveness. They were Kent Greenfield of the Braves, and Alex Ferguson, Jack Scott and Hub Pruett of the Phillies.

BASKETBALL is not the only sport in which the University of Pittsburgh has an unbeaten team thiswinter.

The swimming squad is another varsity outfit that has yet to taste defeat, and, like the floor team, it has a good chance to go through the season without a reverse and hang up a perfect record.

Pat Corr.

The Panther natators, who are coached by Pat Corr, have made a clean sweep of four meets this winter, all decided in opponents' pools. First they defeated the Army team at West Point, N. Y., next Carnegie Tech in the Tartan tank, then Wooster, in Wooster, O., and last Saturday night Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind.

Only two more meets remain on the schedule, one with Wooster here tomorrow night and the other in the Pitt pool later with Carnegie Tech.

THE star of the Pitt team is Phil Wright, its captain, a former Allegheny High School boy who has proved one of the best swimmers that ever represented Pitt. He has set new Pitt records for 40 and 100 yards, and in both his sophomore and junior years won the right to have his name inscribed on the Harry Q. Taylor trophy, the highest Panther swimming honor.

The trophy was set up in memory of the late Harry Q. Taylor, who was swimming captain at Pitt and a son of John T. Taylor, secretary and treasurer of the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U., and himself a former star swimmer.

Jacques Fournier.

WHETHER veterans who have just slipped out of the majors are more valuable in the biggest minor leagues in their first downward step than younger players who are just coming up, full of hustle but lacking the experience of the former main-tent performers, will be demonstrated this year by the Newark (N. J.) club of the American Association, of which Walter Johnson is manager.

Johnson has gathered a crew of league veterans whose names will make Newark's lineup sound like a big league combination.

IN ADDITION to Johnson himself, the pitching staff will include Al Mamaux, Hugh McQuillan, Jack Bentley and Allan Russell, not to mention Rube Parnham of Clairton and Baltimore connections, and Lloyd Davies.

One of the catchers will be Bill Skiff, a former Pirate; Jacques Fournier will be at first base, with Mackin at second, Lutzke, former Cleveland player at third, and Kingdon at shortstop, while the outfield candidates are Bill Lamar, ex-Mackman, Cliff Lee, once a Pirate, Roy Carlyle and Johnny Conlan.

CUE fans in Pittsburgh and elsewhere are awaiting with interest the outcome of the controversy that arose from the challenge issued by Jake Schaefer and Welker Cochran.

No word has since been heard from the balkline stars, who now are on tour in the Middle West.

Charles S. Kline says he is prepared to back Hoppe from $5,000 upward for a three-cushion match of 300 points with diamonds covered or uncovered.

Hoppe says that the challenge is unfair, as he believes that the diamonds are as much a part of the table as the cloth, the slate and the cushions.

MACK MAY RETAIN COBB

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 23.—Connie Mack expects to have Ty Cobb back in the fold for the 1928 season. The Athletics' manager has made Cobb what is described as a "large offer" and is awaiting Ty's reaction. Eighteen pitchers and catchers have arrived here and will have their first real workout today. Sammy Hale, third baseman, is a holdout.

TWO WORKOUTS FOR PHILS

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Feb. 23.—Two workouts one at 10 a. m., the other at 1:30 p. m., were ordered for the Phillies today by their new pilot, Burt Shotton. Seventeen players are on hand, including Big Bill Kelly, the 6 foot 5 first baseman who hit 44 homers for the Newark International League club last season.

WORKOUTS LENGTHENED

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 23.—The workouts of the Washington Senators at Plant Field were ordered increased today to two hours daily. With the arrival of Hugh McMullin, a catcher from Los Angeles, the squad numbers 18 players. All are battery men except Sam Rice, veteran outfielder, who devotes his time to golf, awaiting the arrival of the main squad next week.

DEVOTES TIME TO HURLERS

CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Feb. 23.—(INS.)—Manager Joe McCarthy of the Cubs is spending a good many minutes of his time each day in tutoring a couple of his promising recruit hurlers. They are Granville Bush, brother and stable mate of the veteran Guy, and "Snipe" Hansen, a lanky southpaw. There's a real ball game scheduled for Sunday. A sailors' team from a battleship in the harbor sent in a challenge and McCarthy accepted.

RUTH CLAIMS NEW TITLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(INS.)—Babe Ruth may be in poorer physical shape this spring than in previous years, as some observers claim, but his finger muscles certainly have been getting plenty of work. The Babe says he has written his name on hundreds of baseballs during the winter. One autographing assignment consisted of 264 baseballs from a man in Minneapolis.

MUSKIES WIN

NEW CONCORD, O., Feb. 23.—Muskingum swamped Heidelberg's floor squad here yesterday afternoon, 49 to 27. The visitors were a scrappy bunch, but the Langemen outclassed them in every phase of the game.

If anybody can point out that golf has a clear-cut defensive side, I'd like to hear about it, so I can answer the bimbo who started all of this.

THERE is a good chance that James (Red) Mason, manager of Cuddy DeMarco, will be reinstated by the State Athletic Commission in time to permit him to handle Cuddy in the latter's bout with Willie Harmon at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. The match means a great deal to the McKeesport boxer and Mason's presence or absence in his corner will have considerable bearing on the sort of a bout he will put up.

JIMMY McLARNIN, the Coast contender for the lightweight championship, boxes Sid Terris of New York in Madison Square Garden, New York, tomorrow night, in a final elimination to determine the logical opponent for Sammy Mandell, the champion, in a titular match this summer. If McLarnin boxes true to form, it promises to be a sad evening for Sir Sidney, for Jimmy in the past has been poison to Jewish opponents. Among those he has knocked out are Jackie Fields, whom he stopped in two rounds, in 1925; Joey Sangor, whom he dispatched in three rounds in 1926, and Louis (Kid) Kaplan, former featherweight champion, who took the full count at his fists in eight rounds at Ch' ,o last year.

Exposure—chill—muscles knotted with pain

260 Gloucester fishermen said, "This gives quickest relief.."

NO HARDIER, heartier class of men lives than the men of the fishing fleets.

Nothing daunts them—raging gales, mountainous waves, sudden and heavy strains, the freakish accidents of the sea.

How do they manage to avoid colds, rheumatism, stiffening of the muscles when they've been facing icy seas in an open boat? How do they relieve the aching of tired muscles when they've been straining over the heavy nets? What do they do for the sprains, wrenches, bruises that are bound to occur in an adventurous life like theirs?

We asked numbers of the fishermen of the famous old fishing town of Gloucester, Mass., to answer these questions.

260 said. "We use Sloan's."

The best friend of all who face exposure and strain

It's the same story everywhere among people who have to face exposure or strain. Policemen, postmen, firemen, factory workers, farmers—they all say they rely on Sloan's Liniment to rid them of rheumatic aches, stiffness of the muscles, the pain of sprains and bruises.

Read this account of how a bad case of stiff neck was completely relieved in less than five minutes:

"I was working and got a little warm, and it turned in and rained. I got good and wet. I got a stiff neck and could not turn my head. I used Sloan's and the pain left me in less than five minutes." S. K. Smalley, 75 Union Ave., Bellevue, Pa.

Sloan's Liniment doesn't just deaden the pain. It draws new blood into the stiff muscle, the torn ligament, the rheumatic joint; and stops the pain by driving out congestion, and sweeping away germs and poisons. Get a bottle. You can never tell when it may save you hours of agony. A bottle that lasts a long time costs only 35c—at all druggists.

One of the Gloucester fishermen. They protect themselves from strain and exposure with Sloan's

A doctor who takes care of thousands of workers says: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

Use Sloan's Liniment for all kinds of muscular pain. It relieves:

Sciatica	Stiff Neck
Lumbago	Colds
Neuralgia	Congestions
Sprains	Bruises

QUEBEC, Feb. 23.—(INS.)—Twenty-one-year-old Emile St. Goddard of ElPas won the three-day Eastern International dog sled derby here for the third time since 1925, covering the 120 miles in a total elapsed time of 11 hours 14 minutes 17 seconds.

SOCCER by NEWS TOMBIRKS

THE greatest soccer game of the Western Pennsylvania season will be flashed at the Westinghouse High School Stadium Saturday when Heidelberg, national amateur champs, meets the Pittsburgh Internationals in the semi-final of the West Penn senior cup, for the right to meet the Pittsburgh Rovers in the final.

With the best cup fighting talent in the district in the lineup of the clubs, there is every reason to believe that this will be the season's outstanding game.

Heidelberg is now at the peak of its form, the final rounds of the national amateur championship are coming along, and one week from Sunday the Green and Gold cracks will be in Cleveland to meet the Magyars in the fourth round of the competition. With this game in mind, Manager Balsarini is taking the boys along at a fast clip to put them on edge for the first tough battle in defence of the national title.

So with this in mind the game on Saturday with the strongest club in the district should be a real test for Heidelberg.

Opinion is divided around the soccer camps as to whether the International attacking line can compare with Ruff Donnelli's goal getting quintet. Charlie Powell and Mike Bookie will lead the line and will have a tough job getting goals as fast as the champions.

Never in this district has there been a soccer club with a forward line that can get goals as fast as the Donnelli, McCosky, Chappel and Grilli aggregation. The club has already set a record this season for goal scoring, and it seems as if the Internationals will have to perfect a defense that can stop the Green and Gold sharpshooters.

On Sunday the big game is going to be the West Penn junior final, featuring Bridgeville and the Primrose Juniors. This game will be staged at Heidelberg and many fans in the district should take the opportunity to watch the juniors in action.

as soon as they get onto the ball field. Batting practices, fast fielding drills, and that sort things provide high spots of a training camp and these cannot be put up in a big league manner by the pitchers and catchers.

Manager Bush has confined his pitchers and catchers to throwing, running, medicine ball stunts and bunt games, but Bush is likely to open up today and allow some hitting. Every pitcher likes to swing at the ball, but about four out of five are given to "staggeritis" when at the plate.

The Pirate staff of hurlers is an exception to the rule it would seem. Bush has no .300 batters on his squad, yet Burleigh Grimes, John Miljus and Carmen Hill are quite dangerous. Remy Kremer is not a sure batter, but the Frenchman has been known to "cow-tail" the ball clear out of the orchard. Kremer holds a record for long distance swatting at Forbes Field.

Manager Bush has given out a modified stand as regards to the game of golf. Bush will not allow players to indulge in the sport on days they have baseball tasks ahead. One of the players wanted to go for a game after yesterday's practice period ended, but Bush quietly but firmly forbade the request. On off days the athletes will be allowed to roam the links.

Tartans No Match

By JESS CARVER.

THINGS certainly are in a bad way out at Tech. All this basketball season, from the very first game, the Tartans have been staggering and slipping about, getting no where fast, losing ground with every game and taking 'em on the button each time they step on the floor. Despite the four veterans left over from last year's squad, Tech has been unable to win in any of the 11 starts, and last night, for the third time this year, bowed before the Pitt Panthers. The score was 59-38.

Wroblesk.

The victory was the sixteenth in a row for Pitt and the eleventh consecutive setback for the Tartans. Pitt remains undefeated, Tech is still looking for its first victory.

Skibo followers had high hopes prior to last night's encounter. First they were counting on the Panthers not regaining the form they lost in the Notre Dame game. Second they hoped that Tech would finally show some dash and fire. And third, and most important, they counted on the pep talk that Judge Wally Steffen, head football coach, was to give the team before it took the floor against Pitt.

COHEN PLAYS WELL

Maybe Wally had a cold (maybe he didn't give the talk at all), or maybe the boys were not listening. Suffice to say that the Panthers again trounced the Plaid. Coach Carlson used a changed lineup throughout, and at no time was what is known as the regular varsity in the game intact. Paul Fisher started at a guard in the place of Wroblesk, who was shifted to a forward, and Zehfuss benched for a needed rest.

Sandburg and Cohen were inserted into the lineup after the half, and both gave fine accounts of themselves, especially Cohen, who put up a fine game at center in the place of Gentleman Gyp Wunderlich.

At half time, Pitt held a 31-17 lead. The Tartans, led by Howard Harpster, who incidentally played his best game of the year, kept up a steady banging at the hoop, and sunk six field goals, Harpster getting three. Chipper Charley Hyatt offset those six almost single-handed, however, bagging five of his own. Wroblesk had three and Wunderlich and Reed each caged a pair.

Capt. White, of Tech, didn't survive the first half, committing his fourth personal foul with but 45 seconds remaining to be played. This was the second time he left a Pitt-Tech game in the first half on personals, having been benched in the first encounter in the Stadium.

Opening the second half with a rush, Pitt pulled away to a 42-17 lead, and then lagged a bit while the Tartans pulled up to 42-32. At this juncture, with seven minutes left to be played, Doc gave the boys the nod, ask for 60 points and get 59. They scored 17 points in seven minutes of play.

In the preliminary, the Panther Cubs staged a fine rally in the second half to down the Tartan Pitches, 27-25.

CHILLY SAUCE By CHILLY DOYLE

sad for a couple of wise crackin' kids.

THE Waner act is the biggest thing that has come into the National League for years. The two stars captured Broadway by storm on the first eastern trip of the Pirates. Sprout had a way of getting on, and it was up to Brother Paul to paddle him in. This act had a long run on Broadway; in one series it stopped the show and the Pirates won four games in a row on the Polo Grounds. The triumph victory placed the Bushwhackers in first place, and before the streak was over 11 victories had been recorded.

JUST one year ago this time, little Sprout was wafted into Paso Robles unannounced, and it didn't require any sturdy zephyrs to bring in the rookie. Paul's prominence had won him a tryout, but Lloyd had been ill during the winter and he looked like a flyweight boxing contender instead of a candidate for a big-league baseball berth.

SPROUT went out and gave an imitation of a real hawk in all of the three outfield pastures. A few days later, Donie Bush wanted a second sacker for his Hooligan lineup and Lloyd quietly said he reckoned he could play second. He looked like Hughie Critz for several days, but Bush figured he needed an outfielder, and the youngster went back to the grass.

ANGLERS HERE ORGANIZE

Another sportsmen's organization has been formed in Pittsburgh that will provide much enjoyment for the members of the angling fraternity who pride themselves on their skill with the rod and reel. This group is known as the Pittsburgh Casting Club of the Izaak Walton League and membership has been obtained in the National Association of Scientific Angling Clubs. The club has arranged for two indoor bait casting tournaments during March. One will be held at the pool at Webster Hall on the night of March 14 and the other at the pool in the East Liberty Y. M. C. A. on the night of March 28. Accuracy casting with the one-quarter ounce, one-half ounce and five-eighth ounce weights will be held.

On May 12 the first outdoor tournament will be held at Lake Elizabeth on the North Side, when accuracy and distance events with both bait and fly will be held. Permission to use the lakes in the parks for summer practice has been obtained and interest in the art of casting is sure to become more widespread as a result of this club's activities.

The officers of the club are: President, E. F. Lowry, Wilkinsburg; vice president, George Breitenbach, Millvale; secretary-treasurer, C. W. Ward, Pittsburgh. Directors, Dr. D. S. Leet, Pittsburgh; W. R. Oliver, Pittsburgh; P. E. Angle, Duquesne.

Membership is open to Waltonians anywhere and applications may be sent to Secretary Ward at 5628 Penn avenue. Montrose 7200.

HORNSBY

wonders what his new owner thinks about him.

Said Judge Fuchs to Hornsby:

"Of course, you'll be the captain of the team?"

Whereupon Rogers replied:

"No, I'm scheduled to play in the ranks and let someone else be the captain. I don't want any misunderstanding such as is reported to have figured in my being traded by the Giants."

Hornsby knew that Jack Slattery was coming into the big leagues for his first season as manager, and that Slats might be a trifle resentful of the presence of such a prominent player and aggressive leader in the role of captain. Rogers could figure that he himself knew more about major league baseball than Slattery would learn in the first five seasons, but the former St. Louis and New York star had learned a bit of a lesson about knowing more than his superiors.

COUNTY BOND BIDS OPENED

Bids for the engraving of $3,710,000 worth of Commissioners' bonds were opened today by County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong and County Controller Robert G. Woodside. The Security Bank Note Company, Philadelphia, was low at $1,446.90. The Republic Bank Note Company, Pittsburgh, the only other bidder, estimated $1,558. The contract was not awarded today because of the absence of Commissioners E. V. Babcock and C. C. McClovern.

The bond money is for county bridges, roads, workhouse improvements and court house extension.

HERO MOTHERS LAUD HEARST

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY.

Just what it will mean if the Gold Star Mothers are sent as guests of the government to the graves of their boys in France, only the mothers themselves can say. And, perhaps, even they cannot find words to express what a comfort such a pilgrimage would be.

The House of Representatives unanimously passed the Gold Star Mother's bill Tuesday and it will be pushed through in the Senate. It seems not at all doubtful that it will go through with little opposition.

In a letter yesterday the father of the bill, Representative Thomas S. Butler, of Pennsylvania, praised William Randolph Hearst for the support of his papers and gave him the credit for having a lot to do with molding public sentiment in favor of the bill.

Mrs. John Diller, head of the Pittsburgh Chapter, American War Mothers, and herself a Gold Star Mother, expressed the sentiment of 18 Gold Star Mothers today when she said:

"HURRAH FOR MR. HEARST!"

"It will be one of the happiest days of my life when that bill is passed. The government really owes it to the mothers, but that isn't what we think of. It is a dreadful thing to feel you will never be able to go and place flowers with your own hands on the grave of your beloved boy and say a prayer for help and comfort."

Mrs. Diller will not come under the list of mothers who would make the trip, her boy's body having been brought back. She feels, as do many others, that there should be no line drawn; that all war mothers who gave up sons should be permitted to go and pay tribute at the battle fields where their sons fell. Her son was Emery Oscar Diller, of the Twelfth Field Artillery, and he was laid to rest in Mt. Lebanon Cemetery.

There is a 70-year-old mother who will not be able to make the trip because of her age and the state of her health. She is Mrs. Mary Keibler, 19 Jackson street, North Side. Her boy, Paul M., of Company M, Fifty-ninth Infantry, Fourth Division, is buried two miles from where he fell in the Argonne Woods. But since his burial, although all efforts have been made to locate his body, there has been no success. Gen. Britt tried in behalf of Mrs. Keibler, but was unsuccessful.

She was radiantly happy when she heard the bill had gone through the House and said eagerly:

CALLS HEARST FINE MAN

"It will be a great day. Of the 18 mothers in our chapter who gave up boys I think most of them could and would go to France. Any mother would be comforted if she could see her boy's grave. God bless everyone who has helped. Mr. Hearst must be a fine man, for I have read where he has helped us."

The American Legion, Red Cross and all war organizations are eager for the passage of the bill. So is everyone who is patriotic for that matter. For too little has been done for the boys, as well as those whose hearts were broken with their sorrow. And it is good to see that, after 10 years, there is an awakening of sentiment and sympathy—"Lest we forget."

Dead Cattle Carcasses No Longer Dot Desert

By B. C. FORBES

IN THE SOUTHWEST, Feb. 22.

THE last time I traveled through New Mexico, carcasses of cattle, dead from drought, dotted the plains and desert. Today all is well. Cattle raising has taken on new life. High prices have meant good profits. Rainfall has been encouraging. The whole country—and the people—look more thriving.

At Tucson, in Southern Arizona, a delegation of local citizens gave facts concerning the amazing influx of new residents and visitors. "We have to turn them away by telegram every day," they said. Harriman's daughter couldn't find any accommodations, so she bought a big place here. Dude ranches have been opened all around and everyone of them is crowded. The million dollar hotel that was started by local interests is being taken over by the United Hotels people and will be finished before the fall.

Tucson is justly famous for its sunny climate, its surrounding mountains and desert. "The desert gets you," they solemnly vow. One fellow traveler tells me that after living two years on the desert early in life he was positively afraid to go near a desert again lest it drag him back for life.

As I sit at my every-ready Remington portable and look out on vast stretches of land awaiting only water to make it blossom abundantly my mind reverts to what California has done by the use of water and advertising. The latter has proved almost as essential as the former.

Look at what has happened to California crops, which were not advertised and to the crop that was well advertised:

NOT ADVERTISED.

Fruit.	1927 Crop	1927 Price	1926 Crop	1926 Price
Pears	120,000	$50	267,000	$35
Peaches ..	245,000	40	176,000	39
Plums ...	48,000	50	51,000	25
Grapes ...	2,100,000	80	265,000	20

ADVERTISED.

Fruit.	1927 Boxes	1927 Price	1926 Boxes	1926 Price
Oranges ..	20,000,000	$ 2	29,000,000	$ 2

Note how national advertising made it possible for orange growers to increase their crop almost 50 per cent increase in prices.

That brief table drawn from the most elaborate records of Lord, Thomas & Logan contains meat many concerns and some industries should carefully digest.

"When you sit down and try to complete a list of men who are doing outstanding things for the city either in a big constructive way or purely for the benefit of the community, you realize how really few men rise to general recognition," observed a responsible Los Angeles citizen when I told him I wanted him to get a true blue list of men of affairs who are doing most for the city.

After much consulting and comparing, the following were finally agreed upon as the most useful upbuilders:

J. B. H. Ballard, Andrew McChaffey, Harry Chandler, George I. Cochran, J. Dabney Day, Cecil B. DeMille, George L. Eastman, I. Eisner, Senator Frank P. Flint, Harry M. Halderman, Harold and Edwin Janss, W. P. Jeffries, William Lacy, James R. Martin, Louis B. Mayer, Edward R. Meyer, John B. Miller, Henry W. Omelveny, Lee A. Phillips, Henry M. Robinson, Joseph M. Schenck, George Young.

After all that is not such a short list, is it?

"The ambition of most cities that do not already have one is to create a Fifth avenue, a la New York. Wilshire boulevard is becoming the Fifth avenue of Los Angeles," declared Joe Toplitzky, leading real estate magnate. "It is being widened and extended. Next time you come here you will find that the best department stores will have begun to move to it which just as in New York, the high class stores are steadily moving closer to the residential uptown section."

Did you know that the Rockefellers and the Harknesses and other enormously rich New York families are large property owners in Los Angeles? Mr. Toplitzky, who is in a position to have the facts, confides that interesting information. Money makes money. It is natural that such highly skilled investors should have bought property in a city that has increased in a few years from a medium sized city to one having a population of one and a quarter millions.

The increase since, according to the Eberle Economic Service, has been: 1920, 38,205; 1921, 56,406; 1922, 90,892; 1923, 115,582; 1924, 92,482; 1925, 63,046; 1926, 88,393; 1927, 82,278; a total of 589,467, or a gain of more than a hundred per cent. These figures are more conservative than those usually employed.

A city that can more than double its population in eight years can afford to be joked about for its go-aheadness by other cities, that have relatively, stood still.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 9 to 13 points on buying promoted by relatively firm Liverpool cables and apparent lack of further rain in West Texas.

Trade buying, covering and commission house demand were supplied by realizing, and the market eased off to 18.30c for May and 18.17c for October, or within 6 or 7 points of last Tuesday's closing quotations. There was further March liquidation in anticipation of notices tomorrow which may have had rather an unsettling effect on sentiment, although spot houses continued to buy March against sales of later deliveries.

Private cables said there had been trade selling and continental buying in Liverpool and fair cloth sales in Manchester for India and China account, with the position of spinners and manufacturers improving.

The market eased later under continued near-month liquidation, combined with some local selling, which may have been promoted by private reports of over-holiday rains in Texas. May contracts eased off to 18.25c and October to 18.15c, or about 10 to 12 points from the opening quotations and within 2 or 3 points of last Tuesday's closing prices. The market was quiet and within a point or two of the lowest at mid-day.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Cold weather over the domestic winter wheat belt, together with reports of food scarcity in Central Europe led to early higher prices for wheat today. Better conditions for the corn crop movement tended to ease down the corn market. Opening 3c to 1¾c up, wheat later scored additional gains. Corn started at the decline to 3c advance and subsequently underwent a moderate general setback. Oats were firm. Provisions slanted downward.

Near-zero temperatures predicted for tonight in some sections of the United States winter wheat territory, gave special emphasis today to reports at hand telling of damage already done by alternate freezing and thawing weather. Meanwhile, Liverpool sent word of sustained demand from continental Europe. In their connection, advices were received of famine in parts of Albania, with Hungary and Jugo-Slavia importing both wheat and corn.

Attention of corn traders today centered largely on the fact that lower temperature gave promise of enlarged receipts. Notice was also taken that despite shortage of corn in certain important feeding states, more corn has reached primary markets up to date this season than for any previous corresponding time in 17 years, barring only exceptions. It was also current talk in some quarters that corn prices are too high in comparison with hog values and that the present heavy movement of hogs to market is largely due to this situation.

TRADING DULL AND NARROW IN LOCAL MARKET

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Kelly Earnings Improve.

Kelly Springfield Tire Company reports for the year 1927 net income of $357,741 after interest, depreciation, etc., equal to $12.12 a share on the 4 per cent cumulative preferred on which back dividends amount to 23½ per cent. This compares with net loss of $3,495,789 in 1926. President S. Wellner, Jr., says bank loans have been reduced during the year by $1,355,955 and the 8 per cent sinking fund gold notes by $1,000,000. He also expects 1928 to show further improved earnings over 1927.

Car Loadings Lower.

Loading of revenue freight cars in the week ended February 11 totaled 836,000 cars, a decline of 20,195 cars from the preceding week and 56,593 from the corresponding week in 1927, according to the American Railway Association.

Oil Price Changes General.

Practically all of the important oil purchasing companies have met the revised price schedules of Carter Oil and Humble Oil. The changes range from reductions on the low gravity crudes in Oklahoma, Kansas, North Texas and Central Texas to increases on the higher gravity oils from these areas. Standard Oil of Louisiana has made similar changes in its territory. While Midwest Refining Company has adjusted the schedule on Salt Creek oil calling for changes ranging from an advance of 1 cent a barrel to reductions of 32 cents.

A. P. I. Production Figures.

The American Petroleum Institute estimates that the daily average gross crude oil production in the United States for the week ended February 18 was 2,362,300 barrels, as compared with 2,365,200 barrels for the preceding week, an increase of 4,100 barrels. The daily average production east of California was 1,740,000 barrels, as compared with 1,741,500 barrels, an increase of 1,200 barrels.

Pipe line and tank farm gross domestic crude oil stocks east of the Rockies increased 2,172,000 barrels net in January.

Mack Trucks Profits Down.

Mack Trucks, Inc., consolidated net profit was $5,444,306 after federal taxes for the year 1927, against $9,852,453 in 1926. This is equal after preferred dividends, to $6.59 a share on the common as compared with $10.51 a share in 1926.

Tobacco Products.

Tobacco Products Corporation earned $7.31 on the common stock in 1927 against $11 a share in 1926. Consolidated net income was $7,889,279 after federal tax, against $10,339,376 in 1926. Earnings are figured on 619,320 common shares after deducting class A dividends.

Brokers' Loans.

Brokers' loan figures will be published after the close today. The report is being awaited with keen interest. Because of the sharp decline in many of the speculative issues there is a growing belief that good decrease should be shown. It is considered probable that bearish professionals will wait for the publication of the figures before resuming pressure against the market. Some bankers are still of the opinion there will be considerable curtailment in the loan total before a sustained advance can be started in the general list. Therefore a trading market is likely in the coming sessions.

Secondary Reaction.

Talk is heard of a secondary reaction. It is maintained that stocks do not sell off as sharply as they did recently only to enjoy an immediate recovery and a resumption of the advancing trend. For that reason the opinion prevails that after the rally has run its course another setback will come. This would be following precedents established in the past when similar underlying conditions affected the market.

B. F. Goodrich Earnings.

Final report of B. F. Goodrich Company and subsidiaries for year ended December 31, 1927, shows net profit of $11,740,804 after federal taxes, depreciation, interest, etc., and after setting aside $1,000,000 reserve for contingencies, equivalent after deducting 7 per cent preferred dividends, to $15.44 a share earned on 687,216 no par shares of common stock. In 1926 company reported net profit of $5,043,110 after transferring $5,000,000 from contingent reserve previously set aside, equal to $4.16 a share on 691,710 shares of common stock. Excluding the credit from reserves net profit in 1926 was only $43,110 or 16 cents a share on 262,840 shares of preferred stock.

Central States Crude Cut.

Ohio Oil Company has reduced Illinois, Princeton and Plymouth crude oils 10 cents a barrel, effective today.

Contract for Westinghouse.

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has been awarded a contract for complete electrical equipment of the shipping board freighters Defiance and Triumph.

Germans Buying Dollar Bonds.

Not less than $100,000,000 of German dollar bonds orginally sold in this country have been returned to Germany from the United States. It is estimated by Ferdinand Eberstadt, partner of Lillon, Read & Co., who is now in Germany negotiating several loans. Recent improvement in the German securities markets, according to Mr. Eberstadt, has led to substantial purchases by Germans who are familiar with conditions of their leading companies. He estimates that probably two-thirds of the Rhinelbe Union and Siemens bonds have found their way back to Germany; approximately one-third of the Deutsche Bank and United Steel Works obligations; practically all of the Disconto Bank shares and a large portion of the Berlin City Electric bonds, all of which were brought out in the New York market in the past few years.

Ahumada Lead Shrinks.

Ahumada Lead Company net income for 1927 amounted to only 209,399 after taxes, comparing with $1,163,632 in 1926.

Motion Picture Capital Corporation.

Motion Picture Capital Corporation net income was $97,216 for the year 1927, after taxes and provision for losses, against $236,843 in 1926.

Soft Coal Output Lower.

Bituminous coal production for the week ended February 18 is estimated at about 9,300,000 net tons by the National Coal Association. Output the week before was 9,750,000 tons.

Coke Down 25 Cents a Ton.

Standard furnace coke is 25 cents a ton lower in the Pittsburgh district, quotations ranging from $2.40 to $2.75 a ton.

Loss for Mason Tire.

Mason Tire and Rubber Company reports net loss of $472,807 for 1927, against net income of $543,951 in 1926, or $3.95 a share on the preferred.

Willys Forward Orders.

Willys-Overland has unfilled orders for 25,000 cars. Output in February will approach that number, setting a new record for that month. About 17,000 workers are employed at the Toledo plant, largest on record.

Wool Prices Up for Fall.

The American Woolen Company today opened its fancy suitings line for the fall of 1928. Prices range from 90 cents to $3.80 a yard and represent an advance on better grade goods over spring opening quotations of from 5 to 7½ cents a yard.

Continental Baking.

Resignations of E. W. Kort and George Morrow, directors, were accepted at the annual meeting of the Continental Baking Corporation today. All other directors and officials were re-elected.

St. Paul Car Inquiry.

The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad is inquiring for bids on 4,000 freight cars and 10 baggage cars, it is expected that orders will be placed the latter part of March.

Changes Corporate Title.

Corporate title of the Missellon Stone and Fire Brick Company has been changed to Corundite Refractories, Inc., in order to identify the name of the enterprise more closely with the trade name under which its various refractory products are marketed. Officers chosen for the year are William H. Duff, II., president; C. A. Harrenier, vice president and treasurer, and John H. Duff, secretary, all of Pittsburgh.

Steel Prices Strong.

Several of the leading independent steel producing companies have met the advance of $1 a ton on heavy rolled products announced by Carnegie Steel, United States Steel Corporation subsidiary, late Tuesday. Daily Metal Trade says new hot rolled strip steel prices appear to be withstanding their first tests in the Middle West. Chicago strip mills, operating above 80 per cent of capacity, are unable to make prompt delivery on some sizes. Mahoning Valley strip producers are operating at capacity. In the Pittsburgh district, sales of iron and steel from warehouses are slower, but no price concessions are being offered. The St. Louis pig iron market is more active. Some grades of iron and steel scrap are about 50 cents a ton at Philadelphia.

Seminole Output Down.

The Seminole area for 24 hours ended 7 a. m. Wednesday produced 506,750 barrels of crude oil, against 508,023 Tuesday and a week ago 527,600 barrels July 20, 1927. This is the lowest output since March 20, 1927, when 500,200 barrels were produced.

Gasoline Up at Tulsa.

Retail gasoline prices at Tulsa, Okla., have been advanced 2 cents a gallon. A raise of 1 cent a gallon was put into effect at Minneapolis.

General Motors Foreign Sales.

General Motors Corporation sales of cars to overseas dealers in 1927 totaled 190,859 units, as compared with 118,794 the preceding year.

Newmont Mining Rights.

Newmont Mining Company shareholders of record March 31 will have the right to subscribe to one share of Hudson Bay Mining Company stock at $15 a share on the basis of one Hudson Bay for each two shares of Newmont. Hudson Bay is a newly organized company, formed to operate the famous Flin Flon properties formerly owned by Harry Payne Whitney and his associates. Newmont has been one of the most spectacular performers of the year's market, having shown an open market enhancement of more than 100 per cent since last spring. It is a holding company owning shares of various mineral properties. Newmont shares on the curb jumped several points on the announcement, while Hudson Bay sold up more than a point.

Butte and Superior Earned 91 Cents.

Butte and Superior Mining Company net income was $80,000 for the quarter ended December 31 after depreciation and taxes, equal to 91 cents a share on 230,107 shares, against $28,750, or 9 cents a share, in the previous quarter and $109,862, or 38 cents a share in the fourth quarter of 1926. For the year 1927 net income was $272,910, or 94 cents a share against $186,063, or $1.71 a share, in 1926.

Copper Market Unchanged.

Prices for nonferrous metals have been unsteady during the last week and business has been less than was expected. Lead and zinc have both suffered slight reactions downward in price, Engineering and Mining Journal reports. Copper is substantially unchanged, with the large producers maintaining a uniform front at 14½ cents a pound, delivered in the East, or about ¼ cent above the level asked by the lesser wrought producers. Most metal consumers are apparently underbought and it is likely that March will see improvement in demand. Custom dealers are having difficulty in finding buyers of copper at 14 cents a pound, delivered in the East, and even that price might be shaded slightly on attractive business. The large producing group continues to quote 14½ cents, Connecticut Valley, there having been no breaks in the ranks during the three months' lull in buying. The foreign market continues quiet and unchanged at 14½ cents c. i. f.

France Hits at Foreign Oil.

France is preparing to combat American domination in the French oil market through drastic limitations of importation of oil. The government will submit to the French Parliament shortly a bill to establish a definite "amount of crude and refined oil which may be brought in by foreign companies." Since the United States alone supplies 75 per cent of the oil used in France the proposed legislation will directly hit America—especially the Standard Oil. Rumors that drastic action was intended have caused Washington to ask Ambassador Herrick to investigate what legislation France proposes. Under the terms of the bill importation of oil into France will be limited to 2,000,000 tons annually. In 1927 the amount of oil, both crude and refined, imported into France was 2,170,000 tons. A 20 per cent increase in the consumption of oil in France is expected for 1928, but foreign companies will not be permitted to supply the extra demand. France intends to depend for her extra supply on oil from Mosul and Mesopotamia and what oil she hopes to get from Russia. Under the proposed legislation the companies now importing oil will have to fit into the following category: The amount of oil to be brought in by companies such as Standard Oil and the Royal Dutch will be limited to 61 per cent of the total importation; independent companies will be limited to 19 per cent of the total. The proposed legislation is the second major offensive against American supremacy in French markets, the recent motion picture decree establishing an arbitrary censorship having been aimed at Hollywood.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The raw sugar market was steadier in tone early today. While duty free sugars were unchanged to 4.12c, Cuban varieties were 1-16c higher at 4.37c.

Refiners showed more interest and bought about 50,000 bags of Porto Rican and 7,000 bags of Philippines in monthly positions at 4.21c and 25,000 Porto Rican at 4.24c. Operators bought 21,000 bags of Cuban for March shipment at 4.27c, 14,000 bags of Philippines for March-April shipment at 4.27c and 14,000 April-May shipment at 4.30c.

The issuance of only 91 March notices was somewhat of a surprise in the raw sugar futures market, as a much larger quantity had been anticipated and led to active covering and some European buying in the raw sugar futures market. The market opened 1 to 3 points higher on the buying and continued to advance until net gains of 4 to 8 points had been recorded. Offerings increased around the top levels, however, and reactions followed, with the market at mid-day 2 to 4 points higher. Reports of a better tone to the spot market and cable advices from Cuba stating that the remaining export allotment to foreign countries of 220,000 tons had all been disposed of for April, May and June shipment at 2.38c to 2.41c f.o.b. Cuba, were also factors contributing to the firmness.

In refined sugar a better demand was reported and prices were unchanged at 5.80c for fine granulated.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Prices were steady as trading in the bond market was resumed today after the holiday. Activity, however, was limited, principally because traders preferred to withhold commitments until definite details of the treasury financing for March 15 became known.

Prospective new issues attracted considerable interest, particularly the $40,000,000 refinancing program of the Argentine province of Buenos Aires, which is expected to reach the marketing stage within a short time. The $12,000,000 Firestone Cotton Mills 5s, offered this morning, were reported promptly taken by dealers.

There was some liquidation of railway issues, including Missouri Pacific 5s and Great Northern 7s. Comparatively poor freight loadings, as against the corresponding time of last year, may have inspired some of this selling. Seaboard issues again showed a tendency to recover from recent weakness.

Firmness again ruled the foreign group, Brazilian obligations and Italian municipal issues making the best showing.

Little early trading developed in the federal government division.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, not omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Sensational trading in Courtauilds, Ltd., in London yesterday when the New York Curb Market was closed was followed here today by vigorous trading in nearly all the artificial silk shares, making those issues prominent features in the early dealings. Courtaulds American shares traded here, which rose 8¼ points on Tuesday to 42, moved up over a point to above 43 and then fell back. Tubize Artificial Silk rose 5 points to 493, but was down to 485 before midday and Celanese, after advancing 4 points to above 54, reacted. Celanese preferred made a gain of 5 points in the early trading.

Oil stocks, however, were looked on with most interest because of the general impression that the industry has turned the corner. Vacuum had a special incentive in the 100 per cent stock dividend and rose over 3 points. Gulf Oil, which is also influenced by the payment under the sulphur operating contract, gained 4 points and Standard Oil of Kentucky moved up nearly 3 points. Standard of Indiana shares were in broad demand, and made a gain of 1⅝ to above 74. Prairie Pipe Line rose 3 points and Anglo-American had a gain of a point.

Chain store and food shares were other strong features. Safeway Stores gained 9 points and Royal Baking Powder advanced 2 points. Melville Shoe rose 3 points. Spalding dropped 4 points to 136.

Ford Motor of Canada had a loss of 4 points and American Rolling Mills yielded over a point. St. Paul common lost ½, while the preferred stock made a fractional gain.

Utilities were generally higher. American Gas and Electric moved up 3 points and United Gas Improvement advanced over a point.

Bancitaly moved up 1⅜ points and Deere & Co. rose over 3 points. Newmont Mining made a gain of 7 points in the early trading.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Market, giving all stocks and bonds traded in, 100 omitted in sales column in bond list:

COKE MARKET UNCHANGED

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 23.—The Courier today says: The coke market is in much the same condition as a week ago, when there had been a slight improvement. There has been no further improvement. Since the first of the year the coke trade has been alting improvement in the iron and steel bring about improvement in coke, and while there has been a little improvement there has not been as much as would be expected to harmonize with the bright pictures painted in some quarters of improvement in steel. The reason for this apparently light response has now become apparent. The reason is that there has not been as much improvement in steel as has been claimed. Various appeals are now en to have been inguine.

Sales of spot furnace coke in the past week have been chiefly at $2.75. A week ago the market was quotable at $2.75 to $2.85, having had a definite stiffening, but $2.85 seems now to be only an asking price on the part of some operators havin no coke to spare. Purchases have been made without difficulty $2.75. In January the market was quotable at $2.60 to $2.75 and the present market is well above the range then, so that on the whole there is an improvement.

Production by the merchant and furnace interests and the total compared with the corresponding week 1927 is shown herewith:

Week.	Mer.	Fur.	Total.	1927.
Jan. 7	38,600	7,100	45,700	126,800

Going Out of Business

The Stieff Piano Store, after being in business in Pittsburgh thirty years, have decided to withdraw from the retail field in this city. Therefore, we are offering our entire stock of brand new, shopworn, demonstrating, slightly used and second-hand Pianos for sale. Here are some examples:

	Original Price	Sale Price
New Stieff Artist Grand	$1750	$995
New Strauss Grand	850	395
New Davies & Sons Grand	725	495
New Bennett-Bretz Grand	750	495
New Stieff Welte-Mignon Grand	3600	1995
New Shaw Welte-Mignon Grand	2300	1450

Above we have tried to give you an idea of some of the ridiculous prices that we are going to sell our stock at. Of course we have dozens and dozens of other brand new instruments which are priced accordingly. We have a hundred or more slightly used and demonstrating Grands, Players and Upright Pianos ranging in prices from $75 up.

FRISBY REVEALS TENDER SIDE OF DUCE MUSSOLINI!

A. Bissiri, a humble employe of Mussolini's government, who gives up own teeth to promote better understanding with America.

WASHINGTON — A tender message from Mussolini, and a heartening telegram from New York brought cheer to Congressman Frisby today in his hour of need.

More than two weeks have passed since the loss of Mr. Frisby's teeth became a delicate international question.

Today Frisby received the following telegram—

Sir—

Your sad plight has touched my heart—please accept the enclosed set of china teeth which I knocked out of the mouth of one of my Government employes who was using them to chew the rug instead of working.

You Said It, Marceline!

By MARCELINE d'ALROY

ON "BOASTERS, BEWARE!"

Long ago, a MARRIED woman used to BOAST of her husband, and BOOST him, too, while
The poor unmarried women
Used to THINK she had Nothing to BOAST of, and was Too timid to BOOST for Herself.
But times, some say, have CHANGED. Now it is
The WOMAN who can support
Herself that BOASTS and Boosts for INDEPENDENCE, while Many a MARRIED woman has CEASED to boost for her HUSBAND, and only boasts of
What she gets out of Him. This is TERRIBLE! No Wonder the men don't know WHERE
They get off, and how they Ever GOT ON; for supporting
A strong, DETERMINED woman is Very HARD work. Women have Undoubtedly HARDENED.
Some have HARDENED HEARTS;
Others have hardened MUSCLES,
And some tense minds. Actually the WORLD has not changed Those who Boast LOUDEST have always been Shouting to CONVINCE themselves.

BUGS BAER Says

DAYTONA BEACH: We saw Capt. Campbell spin his top at the rate of 200 miles an hour over the Daytona Beach sands.

The Cap was driving a drop-stitch Napier when he made his record. There are 16 cylinders in the car when the Cap starts a speed trial. When he finishes he is driving a two-cylinder motorcycle.

He can tell how fast he is skidding by watching the spark plugs fly over his shoulder.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Another student who is trying to make the Olympic traffic team has a 36-cylinder triplex on the beach.

He doesn't need any gasoline. He just stops at pumps and has his hood filled up with motor cylinders.

The owner of the triplex is sure it is the fastest car in the world, but he can't start it.

Few people can realize the pleasure of garaging a car loaded with 36 cylinders. You start counting them at dawn, check them up at noon, but at twilight 36 cylinders are still there and 36 cylinders are missing.

Capt. Campbell can leave New York at 6 in the morning, skim leisurely through Pennsylvania, loiter through Ohio and Illinois, proceed cautiously through Missouri, Arkansas, Arizona and New Mexico and dine in Los Angeles at 9 in the evnenig.

He would be cheered on his way by the haunting and mysterious melody of traffic cops' whistles, and numerous constables would speed the departing dust with futile threats and hopeless gestures.

He would prove to the incorporated villages of Ohio that 15 miles an hour was not the speed limit.

And as he toured through the general store, scattered the contents of the state bank and tossed the Mayor over a six-foot fence he would read a sign on the village limits:

"The town of Jibblox thanks you. Call again."

If only for the pleasure of going by a hot dog stand at that rate of speed, we would like to travel at 200 miles an hour.

But no mechanic could tune up 36 cylinders. In order to fix up that many spark plugs you would have to learn to play the piano.

Justice May Be Slow, It Can Be Very Salutary

The insolence of criminal wealth, never so flagrant as in the Sinclair oil conspiracy, gets its needed lesson at last.

To the theft of a people's resource by the corruption of a people's agent it had the effrontery to add the crowning crime of an attempt to invade and defile the very sanctuary of justice.

For sheer bravado this spectacle has had few equals in our day.

Justice Siddons, with scrupulous fairness, and with a patience which at times taxed the patience of the public, gave nine weeks to an exploration of the charges of jury shadowing first brought to notice through the enterprise of a Hearst newspaper, the Washington Herald.

But the sequel shows that his patience was not weakness. Sinclair, Day and the elder Burns in jail will vindicate, as nothing else could, the might and majesty of the law.

The warning will be most salutary.

Every Dope Addict A Disease Carrier

The connection between addiction to narcotics and health has received sufficient general attention.

It is known that the effects of dope on its users are physically, mentally and morally deteriorating at rates of speed which are slower in the case of some drugs than of others, though always appalling.

In the case of the two forms of addiction now most common and most rapidly increasing—heroin and cocaine—this deterioration of the victim is cruelly swift, certain and complete.

The sturdiest bodies are wracked in a few months; the strongest wills and consciences are shattered almost as by a Borgia poison.

But the peril to health is not confined to the addict. Every addict, by reason of low vitality, becomes a potential and usually an actual carrier of disease.

Were society interested in this subject only from the selfish standpoint of the physical protection of its members from infections, it would be justified in doing its utmost to put a quarantine on the illicit traffic in narcotics.

Government Should Leave The Film Industry Alone

The motion picture industry is not ripe for government regulations, as provided in the Brookhart bill before the Senate.

There is no monopoly and no danger of monopoly in the production, distribution or exhibition of pictures. It is throughout a highly competitive business which threatens the public with no extortions.

Moreover, it is a fast developing business which needs to be free of the shackles of government supervision.

The Brookhart bill, to meet alleged abuses in the trade, prohibits "block booking" and "blind booking."

It forbids producers showing pictures first in their own theaters. Each picture in each town must be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

The bill directs the Federal Trade Commission to decide disputes as to prices, etc., and (Section Eight) it forbids anybody in the industry to violate any regulation made by the Federal Trade Commission.

No competitive industry in the United States is subject to any such drastic regulation by the Federal power. The American theory of government is for government to keep its hands off except in cases where competition fails to protect the public.

In this case complaint is not made on behalf of the public, but on behalf of certain "independent' exhibitors.

It is claimed that "block booking," wholesale purchase of a run of pictures, binds the exhibitor to buy inferior stuff in order to get the big hit. Any abuse in this direction is being eliminated by the industry itself. "Block booking" enables the theater to plan and advertise ahead with certainty, and it greatly decreases the cost of selling films.

"Blind booking," buying pictures unseen and unmade, is nothing but selling ahead for future delivery, a practice universal with every leading business in the country. To abolish forward contract, would hurt "independent producers" more than the so-called affiliated interests.

Such contracts are the basis of the bank loans with which the independents meet their payrolls. There are plenty of these independent producers just as there are thousands of independent exhibitors.

The most unfair part of the bill is its attempt to deny producers the right to choose their exhibitors, for example, to prefer the theaters they own. It is an effort to set back the clock of economic progress by refusing to this one group of manufacturers the right to sell direct to the public.

The Brookhart bill would introduce expense and confusion into film distribution by forbidding the long term contracts on which business is done. It would make production more uncertain and costly. Fewer films would be produced, if none could be sold until completed—that is, if there could be no "blind booking."

Finally, government disapproval of our film industry would give foreign governments a fine new excuse to handicap American films by discriminatory legislation.

The Brookhart bill should not pass. It is an ill-considered proposal, based on ignorance of the motion picture business. It will harm instead of help the interests it pretends to protect. It is an un-American interference with a great American industry which has done nothing to deserve this stigma and this handicap at the hands of the government.

ONE "SHOT" SPELLS RUIN

New York Day by Day
O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Manhattan offers its magnificent bluff in strange ways. It knows the value of a "front" and acquires it slyly. The bane of the art galleries is those prospective purchasers who secure fine paintings for inspection and return them after a party.

Dealers in expensive Oriental rugs also frequently spread elegant wares for the night, to be tricked in the same fashion. Likewise the silversmiths and bric-a-brac merchants contribute to the ensemble and add the patina of wealth to those who haven't it.

Auto agencies are wheedled into submitting cars on approval, furnished with liveried chauffeurs, to be used with an air of proprietorship in impressing others. Designing mothers with marriageable daughters lead the field in this hocus-pocus.

The bride of an English officer stationed in India recently came to grief over her mother's deception in New York. The officer had met the girl in Bermuda and came to New York for a two-day stay. The mother rented a $150-a-day suite in the finest hotel for this period.

She filled it with "on approval" paintings and rare objets de art, and the officer was met at the dock by one of the grandest of the imported demonstration cars. He was particularly impressed, and a whirlwind courtship resulted in the girl returning to the Far East as his wife.

Two months later the husband found his bride was penniless and that her mother was an operative in a beauty parlor. A separation followed, with a divorce impending. This parental zeal in New York four-flushing has resulted in many disastrous episodes.

Every smart hotel has its "mail pests"—those top floor rooming house lodgers who have mail sent to hotels and call for it there. Old Paper Collar Joe, a famous confidence man, was not far wrong. He once observed: "Give me a silk hat and a gold-headed cane and New York will give me a good living."

There is a type of amiable and gentle grafter who has disappeared from New York. That is the "professional Southerner." He was always about in the days of the Knickerbocker bar and Considine's, wearing the wide planter hat, Prince Albert coat, boiled shirt and black lawn tie. He styled himself "Colonel," simulated a rich drawl, and had a capacity for liquor and downed it raw. His condition was always decidedly mellow. He was, of course, a fake, but a pleasant one, and deference to him was marked. The advantages he took of his fellows was trifling—a few free drinks and cigars and a dollar here and there so he would not "have to break a hundred dollah bill, sah!" and in exchange he gave a congenial companionship. Most of the "professional Southerners" were born New Yorkers and had never been south of the Mason-Dixon line.

The passing of the professional Southerner came with the birth of the speakeasy. With drinks a dollar, and often two dollars, a copy, people were not so generous in "Have one?" nods to loungers. The charm of these pseudo aristocrats was in their boastful knowledge of good liquor and their discussion of it. That with present day varnish is like praising an Armenian massacre or something.

* * *

Which recalls that a Broadway statistician in a recent survey found there were 496 clocks visible in stores, shops, street posts and advertising signs in a walk from the Circle to Herald Square. And even at that New York is never on time.

* * *

Even our Mayor—but I believe that has been mentioned.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Jules Verne

JULES VERNE'S originality forms his impenetrable armor against all detractors, a number of whom have appeared now that the hundredth anniversary of his birth is being celebrated in all civilized countries.

Some can never forgive this great story-teller for having ignored "the love element" in his irresistible narratives. But that was a sign of his originality. His contemporaries could not think of a story without a heroine. So he left all the heroines to them and concentrated his attention, and the interest of his readers, upon the heroes.

Jules Verne preferred Achilles without Briseis, and considering the aim of his stories he was right, for what did Briseis do but spoil the hero of the "Iliad." Verne did not permit Captain Nemo to be spoiled in that manner, and the great subterranean hero lived and died "in meditation free," presenting a sublime independence that almost recalls the figure of Milton's Satan. Read again that last scene aboard the Nautilus in the story of "The Secret of the Island."

Some are at pains to point out that Verne had predecessors in his invention of imaginary methods and mechanisms of human locomotion that have since become realities, like the submarine, the dirigible, the automobile and so on. Of course he had, for these things and many others have been streaming through human dreams from times beyond record, but none of these predecessors was able to strike his gait.

None electrified the world with "Journeys:" "From the Earth to the Moon," and "To the Center of the Earth," and "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and "Across Africa in a Balloon," and "Around the World in Eighty Days," and on "A Giant Raft," and "To the North Pole," and to Siberia with "Michael Strogoff;" every one of the journeys being to the reader so realistic, vivid, captivating that he forgot its imaginative foundation, willingly accepted the hero for a real personage, and gladly joined company with him and followed him breathless in his adventures.

It has been affirmed also that Jules Verne's writing lacked perfection of literary style, so that although the French Academy was forced by the popular acclaim of these wonderful productions to bestow its crown of merit upon them, yet the "Forty Immortals," a little ridiculous in their stiff self-admiration, would not admit the author to fellowship with their lofty selves.

The fact is that Verne wrote sound, accurate, grammatical, and idiomatic French, superior in lucidity and carrying power to much of the product of the academicians, and excellently suited to his subjects. If there had ever been an English Academy (the darling dream of Matthew Arnold) it would in like manner have shut its doors on John Bunyan, and perhaps on Daniel Defoe, and even, it is not improbable, on Charles Dickens—though forced, in each case, by public sentiment to recognize the greatness of their works.

Verne is said to have been hurt by his exclusion from the Academy, but how trifling a matter that seems amidst the blaze of his reputation, which rekindles a little, each time that some new triumph of practical science recalls the memory of the prophetic vision with which he surveyed the world of the near future, and helped to prepare for it by projecting some of its coming heroes upon the morning clouds.

A Marathon Mamma

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatch from Toronto, Canada, brings these tidings:

"Mrs. Bert O'Neill (Rosa Grosse), holder of the American fifty-yard indoor record and the champion woman runner of Canada, last night gave birth to a son."

Here, certainly, is a baby born under a lucky star. When he yells for his milk his mother will be at his crib-side in a flash. When he gets the measles and, as sometimes happens, the telephone is out of order, the maternal speed demon will round up a dozen doctors, in less than no time.

Babies, as we all know, are little tyrants. They demand service. And they are terribly capricious. When little O'Neill, Jr., gives his mamma the "run-around" he is going to get SOME service!

Out of sympathy for Mrs. O'Neill, however, we hope the kid will have a heart. In the beginning it may be fun for him to watch mamma breaking a record to bring him his rattle. But mamma may grow tired after a while.

One cannot help wondering, however, whether the child will fare better in life than one whose mother walked slowly, with a slight limp.

Once Overs
By J. J. MUNDY

Expect Less

EVEN in the deepest sorrow, don't expect prolonged sympathy.

If you do, you will be disappointed.

You must expect to carry your burdens without much help from anyone outside your immediate family.

Even the family gets tired of consoling an inconsolable.

In this busy world there is not much time for condolences.

A few sympathetic words, some kindly and thoughtful acts and most persons feel that they have done about all that should be required.

It may be shocking to you to receive so little attention in your time of trouble.

You feel that you should have more consideration shown to your grief.

To make things worse you start worrying over the way you are treated and you feel like censuring some.

The world has no time for weeping, sorrowing folk.

The best thing you can do is to put up a brave face.

More will seek your society and you will get your comfort from your own attitude of courage in time of trouble.

Critics

SOME critics carp and some are kind,
With friendly word some seek
To lend a light where you are blind,
Give strength where you are weak.

But only one can ever be
A guide unfailing, true;
Of critics all, but one can see
The best that you can do.

But one can tell how far, how high
The goal which you might win,
Or choose the road to travel by,
Your critic dwells within!

And he is never satisfied,
Save with this final test:
If to each task you truly tried
To give always your best.

Tales that are Told

Irish Wit

MRS. DOOLEY was not an educated woman, but she tried hard to pass as one ever since she had come into some property.

"Will you sign your name here, Mrs. Dooley?" asked the solicitor who was drawing up an agreement for her.

"You sign it yourself and I'll make a mark," said the old woman. "Since my eyes gave out I'm not able to write a word."

"How do you spell it?" he asked. "With or without an 'e?'"

"Spell it which ever way you like, young man," said Mrs. Dooley. "Since I lost me teeth I can't spell a word."—London Answers.

Too Much Yeast

AS SOON as tea was finished Farmer Beeton announced to his household that he was so tired of eating badly made bread that he would make the next day's supply himself.

"Good idea," agreed a visitor. "I'll lend you a hand, if you like."

Together they departed kitchenwards, one bearing a bag of flour, the other a drum of yeast.

It was past midnight and still the amateur bakers were hard at work. The farmer's wife ventured to ask whether the bread was in the oven.

"In the oven?" cried Beeton. "We can't keep it in the kitchen, let alone the oven."

Manners First and Last

BERYL was a blonde chorus girl very much in love with a certain young man, whom one day she was foolish enough to introduce to her girl friend. The young man was rather stricken by the beauty of this second girl, and he promptly transferred his affections.

His aggrieved Sweetheart gave her rival a piece of her mind in a letter which ran as follows:

"You heartless creature! You know very well Bertie and I were almost engaged. We had been going about together for nearly six months. Just wait till I see you. I'll scratch out your eyes, knock your teeth out, and pull your hair off, you little creepy, crawly, music-hally beast. Yours truly, Beryl.

"P. S.—Please excuse pencil."

Some Summer

SHE was turning over a heap of music scores when the assistant came to her side.

"I was looking for a song entitled, 'An English Summer,'" remarked the woman. "Have you got such a thing in stock?"

The assistant made a thorough search of his shelves, but the song was not forthcoming. Finally, he, rummaged beneath the counter, and then he smiled.

"Here you are, madam," he said. "Here you are—'One Fine Day.'"

Brave, Dad!

"YOU have acted very wrongly." Thus Horace's father in the presence of Horace's mother, to Horace, discovered in the act of stealing jam.

"It may seem a small offence, Horace," he continued, "but it has for its foundations one of the prime causes of the world's unhappiness—disobedience. I am more than angry. I am grieved. I want my son to grow up a fine, strong, honorable man. I want him—" Here he stopped for breath.

Little Horace turned enthusiastically to his mother and said, "Mummy, isn't daddy interesting?"

Mystery of Hats

AN ENORMOUSLY fat man with a tremendous head and a very thin man with a small head were going home after a banquet.

Upon the fat man's head was perched a tiny hat about twenty sizes too small. The thin man's head and face were almost hidden under a huge hat about twenty sizes too large.

The big man blurted with great dignity: "I'd give something to meet the fellow who changed our hats, wouldn't you?"

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The story is told of an old Quaker gentleman who was bitten by a mad dog.

He was not in good repute with his neighbors, declined to go to church and never bothered much with thoughts of the after life.

When he was bitten by the dog he did not go to a doctor or look up a Pasteur, but went straight home and locked himself up. There he was seen by his curious neighbors to be writing furiously. A number of them gathered outside and watched him from the window. At last one of them opened the door and said to him:

"Knowing that nothing but hydrophobia lies ahead of thee, we are glad to see thee making thy will and turning thy attention to the life after death." He replied, "That ain't what I'm doin'. I am makin' out a list of the people I want to bite."

Doubtless composing this list gave him some measure of satisfaction. There is always some sort of pleasure in expressing yourself, in getting the bite disposition out of your system.

We heard once of one woman who had an enclosed back yard into which she often went so that she might scream to her heart's content. She couldn't yell in the house when the children got on her nerves, she couldn't constantly suppress a desire to make a noise, so she took it out by yelling in the back yard.

It is a good plan when you feel down and repressed and somebody has done you great wrong and you are generally out of sorts with the world, to retire into your chamber and kick the bureau. The bureau does not mind it and it helps you work off your extra steam.

A great many crimes would be prevented if people had some harmless way of relieving the pressure.

Nothing can be said in defense of profanity, but there at least is some sort of joy in a man's using strong language when nothing else seems to fill the bill. Sometimes he is in the case of the man who missed the train just by the fraction of an inch. He stood silent a moment and some one asked him why he didn't swear. His reply was that he couldn't think of words suitable enough to express the situation.

Much has been said of the necessity of controlling one's self, but something should be said once in awhile about the necessity of letting one's self go.

One advantage of the Fourth of July or our quadrennial presidential elections is that they are safety valves for the public. We can all go out and yell to our heart's content and march in parades and the exercise does us some good.

An occasional blow-out seems to be necessary for some dispositions and they ought to be shown how to blow out harmlessly.

Give Them a Den

FATHERS and Mothers, if your sons and daughters drive you to Pabst or prayer because of their night owlings and tomcating, give them a den.

It is not a panacea but it will do its percentage quota of home lure work and do it well.

It is a truism with sons and an axiom with daughters that they want a few square yards of the world, fenced off and walled in, which they may call their own. It is a trick of God to preserve the race. It is paternalism or maternalism calling to its mate.

And make the den irresistibly attractive. Spend your thrift week in some other part of the family budget and do your Shylocking where the penny-pinch won't be so disastrous.

A dollar for beauty in the den may save a hundred in outside roistering.

And consult the prospective tenants. Let them furnish the blue prints and specifications. They will individualize the place. It will mirror its designer and show distinctive features and personality. The place should reflect them, not you.

And any young woman can do more with chintz and cretonne, or any young man with pictures and pennants, than all the professional decorators and finishers who would standardize everything from curtains and carpets to smiles and smilax.

Now fill the den with denizens. Give the son or daughter carte blanche to issue all the R. S. V. P. cards they please. Make every night open house for their friends.

Smile a bit of joy into their hearts when they come and squander a little fragrant vocabularly on them. Then watch them blossom like hyacinths in June.

Then, Mother, in the midst of their Arabian night, you tap softly on the door and say, "Here, Son, pass this trayful to your guests and tell them that eating is compulsory." Or, Dad, you stumble up and say, "Boys, won't you help me stow away this stock of doughnuts and sweet cider?"

Then the youngsters will choke your ears with the music of their appreciation and love and they will bugle your fame all over the ballwick in megaphone tones like this:

Say, that Dad and Mother are certainly the best sports in Pennsylvania.

More dens, fewer dives.

"Style in Life"

THE visiting Viennese psychologist, Dr. Adler, tells us that the "style of life" becomes fixed in children at the age of five. By "style of life" he means both habits and trends of thought and feeling.

It may be possible later to change the style, but it is wiser to start it right.
